

SEISMIC SHOCKS CAUSING TERROR IN MEXICO CITY

Capital of the Southern Republic Is Badly Shaken by Tremors of the Earth.

FOUR PERSONS INJURED; MANY BUILDINGS ROCKED

Theater Crowds Rushed Into the Streets in Wild Panic—Duration of the Shocks Long and No
One Slept in the City
Last Night.

Mexico City, March 26.—Mexico City experienced two severe earthquake shocks today.

The first shock, which occurred at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon, lasted 4 minutes and 28 seconds, and did little damage.

The second shock, which occurred at 9:17 o'clock tonight, was much more severe. Four persons were injured during the quake, one of them mortally, and great damage was done to buildings.

Walls were cracked and clocks all over the city were stopped. The theater crowds rushed to the streets. The people are greatly alarmed over the repeated shocks. A number of walls have fallen. For a short time telegraph communication was interrupted.

The shock was felt over an area of some 500 miles from north to south, extending itself at Guanajuato on the north, and Rincon Antonio on the south.
Calle San Francisco, the main thoroughfare of the city, was cracked in places for many blocks. It is feared here that the shocks will be repeated,
and few are sleeping soundly tonight.
It has been many years since successive shocks of any severity have been felt here. All of the injured were Mexican workmen.

The shock was similar to that felt in this city about a year ago; the oscillations being of a long, swaying variety.
At the national observatory it was stated that the needle of the Seismo-graph traveled the entire distance of the dial.

That the property loss was not greater is due, according to the scientists, to the fact that Mexico City rests on the spongy bed of an old lake.

EXPLOSION OF GASOLINE

Resulted in Fatal Burning of Soldier and Injury of Captain.

Tampa, Fla., March 26.—The explosion of gasoline at Egmont Key, upon which Fort De Soto is located, late last night, resulted in the death of a soldier and the injury of a captain. The explosion occurred in a building, probably a fuel tank, and the fire spread rapidly, burning for several hours.
The fire was extinguished before the fortification and officers' quarters were endangered.

COOPER CAUGHT AT BARNETT.

Negro Admits Committing Crimes Charged Against Him.

Barnett, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)— Porter Cooper, colored, wanted for murders in Hancock county, was captured here last night by Night Operator C.
E. Davis and J. P. and L. H. Luckey.
Cooper admits killing his wife last Monday night, then chopping her up with an ax, burying her in several places, and then burning his house.
He will be taken to Hancock county
this morning, when a liberal reward will be paid for his capture.

BOARD OF TRADE BANQUET.

Annual Banquet Will Be Held at Americus on April 9.

Americus, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)— Arrangements were concluded this afternoon for the annual banquet of the Americus board of trade, to occur April 9. The occasion marks the close of another year of successful endeavor
upon the part of this organization, which is doing much for Americus, com-mercially.

Two hundred guests, including distinguished speakers, will attend the banquet.

BLEW OFF HEAD OF ROBBER.

Premature Explosion Occurred in Blowing Open Safe.

Springtown, Ark., March 26.—Three robbers attempted to rob the bank at this place last night, but a premature explosion blew off the head of one robber and so mutilated him that identification is impossible.

The other two left hurriedly without securing any spoils. The note of the explosion aroused the citizens of the village, who hurriedly formed a posse and started in pursuit.

King Not in Battle of Flowers.

Blairville, March 26.—King Edward was indisposed today, and did not join in the battle of flowers, but he witnessed it from windows of his apartments, and he gave a small dinner this evening, among the guests being Princess Cantacene, and afterwards watched the torchlight parade.

USURPATION OF POWER CHARGED TO ROOSEVELT

Scathing Arraignment of the Chief Executive by Beall, of Texas.

CONGRESS AND COURTS OVERRIDDEN BY ROOSEVELT

Beall Describes Roosevelt as Quer-relous Combination Republic. Has Ever Seen—God Alone Knows How Future Will Regard the President.

Washington, March 26.—More shafts of sarcasm and invective were aimed at President Roosevelt in the house of representatives today. In one of the most scathing arraignments of a public officer ever heard in that chamber, Mr. Beall, of Texas, charged the president with having been guilty of "a disgusting usurpation of power,"
not only toward the national legislature, but the judiciary as well. Congress had, he said, abdicated to him power, and the judiciary of the country felt the effect of his influence. God and the future alone know, he declared, just what niche he was to occupy in the temple of his country.

Mr. Beall credited the president with having appointed three judges of the supreme court of the United States and a majority of the United States circuit and district judges.

"Drawing their source of authority from him," he declared, "and holding their commissions from him, he stands in a position to wield a powerful influence upon them, though they are the representatives of a distinct department of the government."

The president, he charged, was not content with the exercise of the same power exercised by Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Grant and McKinley, "but in his overpowering ambition reaches out with eager hand and exercises powers not dreamed of by them."

Where Does He Get His Authority?
"Where does he get this authority?" Mr. Beall demanded. "How does he justify his actions?" The president, he said, adopted two defenses. One was that there was an inherent power belonging to all sovereigns, apart from any power conferred by the constitution; the other was that through judicial interpretation there must be vested in a federal government a power to do things it had not possessed before.

The president was denounced for insisting on a jail sentence for Robert N. Harper, a druggist of this city, convicted of violating the pure food and drugs act, while the sentence was still pending. As regarded the case of Judge Wilkey, he said, the president had in-sulted the legislative branch of the government by writing a letter to the judiciary committee, while the case was still under investigation, declaring Judge Wilkey innocent of the charges against him. "That letter," he exclaimed, "was simply the will of the 'Big Stick' over that committee and the membership of the house." He regretted the committee had not asserted its independence by sending the message back as an insult.

Disgraceful Usurpation of Power.
After all, said Mr. Beall, the president was not entirely to blame because the senate and house "sit with folded hands. Having abdicated the authority given to them, they sit supi-nely at his feet." In his opinion, "a more disgusting usurpation of power

MARSHALL FOR GOVERNOR

And Hull for Lieutenant Governor.
Immediate Revision of Tariff
Is Demanded by Platform.
Convention Was Enthusiastic.

Indianapolis, Ind., March 26.—The Indiana state democratic convention closed tonight after naming a state ticket, adopting a platform demanding an immediate revision of the tariff, and instructing the thirty delegates to the national convention to vote for W. J. Bryan for president. John W. Kern, of Indianapolis, was endorsed for the vice presidential nomination. The convention was enthusiastic and the majority of the state nominations were hotly contested. There were six candidates for governor, and the nomination was made on the fifth ballot. There were four ballots for lieutenant governor.

Thomas R. Marshall was nominated for governor, and Frank J. Hall for lieutenant governor, together with a full state ticket.

Bryan and Kern Planks.

The planks in the platform referring to Mr. Bryan and Mr. Kern are as follows: "Democracy enters on the presidential campaign with a leader already chosen, called to command when but a young man, combated in two successive campaigns by the unreasoning assaults of his adversaries and a debauched suffrage, corrupted by contributions made by predatory wealth, this great leader, by force of his splendid intellect, his noble manhood, his matchless eloquence, his purity of life, has not only become the greatest private citizen of the republic, but an absolute moral force in the world." In honoring him, the democracy of Indiana honors itself.

"The democracy of the United States, with one accord, delivers its banner to Nathan W. Hale, Honorable William Jennings Bryan."
"The condition of our country and the remedies to be applied require that there should be elected at the head of our government a man whose sympathies are with the masses and the promptings of whose heart beat responsive to the good of the people, and whose honor, integrity or capacity cannot be questioned."
The man of the hour is America's foremost citizen, William Jennings Bryan, and we hereby endorse him for the presidency of the United States, and instruct our delegates to the national convention to cast the vote of Indiana for his nomination.

"The Indiana democracy, having a justifiable faith in the high character the proved ability, the distinguished party service and the aggressive patriotism of our beloved fellow citizen, John W.
Kern, do hereby commend him to the democracy of the nation as a most important and desirable nominee for the vice-presidency."

IOWA DEMOCRATS GATHER

UNDER BANNER OF BRYAN

Cedar Rapids, Iowa, March 26.—Bryan's name came lustily from every throat at the democratic state convention today. Bryan men who have been loyal through all the years were selected as delegates at large, the platform adopted was a recast of the Nebraska platform, and endorsement of Bryan and the Omaha platform was made stronger and more eloquent today by his Iowa admirers. Every mention of his name was greeted with storm of cheers. Delegates at large were not chosen until this evening. They are:
Charles R. Porter of Center; Jerry
B. Sullivan, of Des Moines; E. J. Dunn, of Mason City, who were chosen on the first ballot, and C. F. Duncombe, of Fort Dodge, who won out in a contest with General James Weaver, on the second ballot.

ILLINOIS UNFURLS CANNON BANNER

Republican Convention Declares
for Speaker for President

FOR TARIFF "ADJUSTMENT"

Platform Framers Decided That "Adjustment" Was Better Word Than "Revision"—Convention Harmonious and Enthusiastic.

Springfield, Ill., March 26.—Republicans of Illinois, in state convention today, enthusiastically endorsed Joseph G.
Cannon as candidate for the presidency, declared in favor of a revision of the tariff, and elected the following four delegates at large to the national convention:

United States Senators Shelby M. Cullison and Albert J. Hopkins, Governor
Charles S. Deneen and Mayor Fred A.
Busse, of Chicago.
The convention also endorsed the administration of Governor Deneen, and that of all other state officers.
For the last two days it has been consistently asserted by various delegates that the resolutions would favor tariff "adjustment," instead of "revision," it being the idea that "revision" is generally accepted as meaning reduction, and "adjustment" might mean the raising of some schedules as well as the lowering of others. But when Congressman Henry S. Boutell arrived from Washington, where he had consulted with Speaker Cannon and other republican leaders, the plank was made to read "revision" as adopted today.
There was not a whisper of opposition to Speaker Cannon.

All motions were passed unanimously
and without argument.
Just before the reading the platform
the convention took an impromptu adjournment because of a fire in the Leland rooms, and many of the delegates had rooms and many of the delegates never returned to the hall.
After an interim of an hour the convention was called to order a second time by Chairman Buckingham, and the final part of the program was carried out promptly.

DEFEATED EVANS FACTION

TAKES ACTION IN TENNESSEE

Nashville, Tenn., March 26.—Designating themselves as the regular state convention, a number of republicans assembled at the capitol today and instructed for William H. Taft for president, endorsed H. Clay Evans for vice president, and instructed for Congressman Nathan W. Hale for national committeeman. T. W. Wade, of Smithville, was nominated for supreme judge, and the following delegates at large to the national convention were selected:
E. W. Essary, of Henderson county;
S. R. Sells, of Washington county, and
J. W. Powelkes, of Humphreys county.

The convention was called to order by Newell Sanders, chairman of the state executive committee and H. Clay Evans, was chairman of the permanent organization. The proceedings lacked the disorder which marked the convention of yesterday, which later was taken charge of by the Brownlow-Oliver-Austin element after stirring times.
Speakers grew fervid, however, in condemnation of the happenings of the first gathering.

The resolutions adopted today also indorse the administration of President Roosevelt, and favor tariff revision by the "friends of protection."

RHODE ISLAND REPUBLICANS

ATTACK "DISFRANCHISEMENT"

Providence, R. I., March 26.—The first provision of the constitution of the state of Rhode Island, which provides that the right of suffrage shall be exercised by the white male citizens of the state, was attacked by the republicans at the annual convention held here today. The delegates at large who were not instructed on the matter of a presidential candidate were chosen as follows: Andrew J.

Votes for Franchise.

San Francisco, Cal., March 26.—Three indictments, each containing three counts, against Patrick Calhoun, president of the United Railways; T. J. L.
Ford, general counsel for the same corporation, and Abraham Ruef, former political boss of San Francisco, recently voted by the grand jury, last night were filed with Presiding Judge Suydam today.
The indictments charge Calhoun, Ford and Ruef each with having offered a bribe of $4,000 on May 10, 1906, to Supervisor F. P. Nichols, John J.
Fuery and D. G. Coleman in connection with the granting of a franchise giving the United Railways the right to convert its cable lines into a trolley system.
The new indictments were returned with a view of meeting every possible technical objection that has been raised by the defense to the indictments returned by the former grand jury.

KAISER JOKES THE KING

About the Engagement of Duke d'Abruzzi to Miss Elkins.

Venice, March 26.—It is reported here that Emperor William, of Germany, in conversation yesterday with King Victor Emanuel, asked the Italian ruler whether he was soon to have an American cousin. This was a reference to the report that the duke of the Abruzzi is engaged to be married to Miss Katharine Elkins, daughter of Senator Elkins, of West Virginia. The king replied that he could not say, that he must await the arrival of the duke, who is expected in Rome on April 1.

CHURCH LOSES DECISION.

Supreme Court Decides Against the Temple Baptist Church in Injunction Suit.

The supreme court yesterday rendered a decision affirming the decli-nation of the lower court in the case of the Temple Baptist church against the Georgia Terminal company, which is constructing the terminals for the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic Railroad company.
The church brought suit for injunction in Fulton superior court against the terminal company to prevent the closing of a street at some distance from it, in lieu of which another street was to be opened by the company. The superior court declined to grant the injunction, and the supreme court has sustained this action.

Westley, Ezra Dixon, Bristol, and John Fletcher, Providence.

The platform indorses President Roosevelt and his policies, and says:
"We believe that the civil and political rights of the colored citizens should be accorded them in every state in the union, and that legislative enactments virtually disfranchising them are unfair and repugnant to the law of the land, and states adopting such methods should be made to suffer a reduction in the representation in congress and in the electoral college."

"We indorse the declaration of the Ohio platform of this year in behalf of the revision of the tariff by a special session of congress, insuring the maintenance of the true principle of protection."

Encouraging Reports Made by Offi-

Afternoon Session—President

Delegates.

PROGRAM FOR TODAY.
Business session, 9 o'clock.
Automobile ride around the city, complimentary to the ladies by the City Salesmen Association.
Afternoon—Reception to the ladies at the Piedmont hotel parlors, 4 p. m. to 6 p. m.
Evening—Grand opera house,
8:5 to 11 o'clock.

At 10:30 o'clock yesterday morning the "Knights of the Grip," otherwise known as the members of the Travelers' Protective Association, met in the assembly room of the Piedmont hotel for the fourteenth annual convention.

The first session was taken up by speeches of welcome from City Attorney James L. Mayson, Mayor Joyner, Governor Hoke Smith, President Massey of the City Salesmen Association, and President Cary J. King, of the Travelers' Protective Association.
President C. H. Kelley called the meeting to order. Rev. S. R. Beik followed with a prayer, asking the Supreme Being to be watchful over the deliberations of the convention.

Welcomed by Mayson.

Attorney James L. Mayson then took the floor. He spoke as follows:
"I welcome you, gentlemen, to this our great city. It is our boast that we bring to the great world, and to the Atlantic ocean. We bid you welcome to a city which manufactures everything, from coffee to soft drinks, in prohibition times." In referring to Post B, the local branch of the Travelers' Protective Association, Mr. Mayson said that the members "were the jewels of the city."

President Massey, of the City Salesmen Association, was next. He referred to the great work of the organization and its industry, and remarked: "I believe that the Georgia salesmen will discover the north pole in looking for new business."
Mayor Joyner said: "If all of you are like the members of your local order, you are the best fellows in the world. I was once a salesman, they called them drummers then. I sold ladies' hats. If any of you here are selling hats for ladies, you have my deepest sympathy. May God bless you."

Dr. Beik then introduced Governor
Smith. He spoke as follows:
"I don't know of a greater body in Georgia than the Travelers' Protective Association. I wish you all could live a thousand years and make things lively in this vale of tears. I wish I could live a thousand years, less a day, because I would hate to hear you had passed away."

What Governor Said.

Governor Smith addressed the assembly.
"One thing alone diminishes my pleasure," he said. "The last time I was with you there were those we all miss today." He was referring to Member Hyatt and others who had died in the last year. Taking up his main subject, he continued:
"I am aware you have had a hard time for the past few months on account of financial disturbance. Now you

John Sharp Williams Says Democrats Can Indorse Only a Portion of It

LEGALIZING OF TRUSTS OPPOSED BY WILLIAMS

Democratic Leader Says Roosevelt
Talk of Good Trusts and Bad Trusts is Absurd—All Private Monopolies Are Bad.
No Penalizing of Boycott.

Washington, March 26.—Representative John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, as leader of the minority in the house of representatives, tonight issued a statement defining the attitude of the democratic party in the house toward legislation urged by President Roosevelt in his messages to congress at the present session. The statement describes what republican legislation
the democrats will support, what they will oppose and what concessions they demand on the part of the majority as the price of refraining from an organized filibuster throughout the remainder of the session.

Mr. Williams opens his statement by saying:

"Some things in the president's recent message are so immediately important to the interests of the entire country as to pass the bounds of par-tisanism, and to make it excusable, if not necessary, for me to say something concerning them with the view of assuring the president himself, and reasonably-inclined republican members of the house and the country, of the support and indorsement, or the opposition, of the democratic minority. In so far as the things urged by the president are good things, I would like the country to know that all he has to do is to deliver twenty or twenty-five republican house votes in favor of them.
Those conjoined with the solid democratic votes will put them through."

What Democrats Will Support.

Mr. Williams notes the following measures as ones which will "command virtually the solid democratic vote within constitutional limits."

To compel publication of campaign contributions.

Prohibition of child labor in the District of Columbia and the territories.
An employers' liability bill, drawn to conform to the recent decisions of the supreme court.

Federal liability to government employees.

A law to prohibit the issuance of injunctions without notice to the party crimined.

Removal of the tariff on wood pulp
and printing paper.

Imposition of a federal charge for every water power right granted on a navigable stream.

Those principles and measures urged by the members of the Travelers' Protective Association, taken issue, are enumerated as follows:

The penalizing of the boycott.

The right of the attorney general to nominate receivers when common carriers are thrown into the hands of a receiver.

The modification of the Sherman antitrust law so as to permit within limitations the maintenance of trusts and the making of trade agreements between competitors of capital.

The appointment of a commission to prepare data for revision of the tariff.

INTEREST ASKED ON PUBLIC MONEY

Banks Will Be Required to Pay on Government Deposits.

1 PER CENT MONTH MINIMUM

Washington, D. C., March 26.—Some progress was made toward the disposition of the Aldrich currency bill today, notwithstanding the fact that it was not taken up until late in the session, which was continued until an unusually late hour. When adjournment was reached several amendments had been considered and disposed of. The Senate passed the bill on the interest to be paid on government deposits at a rate of not less than 1 per cent a month. The bill also provided for the payment of interest on the deposits of the United States banks on the pending bill. CHICAGO ROBBED BY WATER FRAUDS

Amazing Graft is Discovered in Water Department

MANY EMPLOYEES INVOLVED

Over Thirty Persons in Water Department Concerned in the Grafting Which Has Cost the City Thousands of Dollars.

Chicago, March 26.—An amazing system of robbery and graft involving the city employees and big business firms, and extending back through several years, was uncovered yesterday in the water department. As a result of the revelations two employees, including a division head, were removed and thirty-eight subordinate employees are slated for discharge today. Some of them may be indicted for complicity in the theft. Through the use of tampered meters and the connivance of city employees, several large corporations have defrauded the city of hundreds of thousands of dollars in water taxes. At the same time the employees of the meter division, to which the scandal is confined, have plundered the stock of supplies, selling meters to junk dealers and bartering materials for drinks in saloons.

MODIFICATION OF ORDER MADE

Newspapers Can Be Sent If the Subscriber Requests a Continuance.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—(Special.)—The postoffice department has again modified its recent order in regard to lapsed subscriptions, and will permit newspaper and magazine publishers to continue to send their publications to subscribers whose subscriptions have expired, provided the subscriber requests that it be done. The whole end sought by the department is to prevent publications having fraudulent subscription lists from sending their publications indefinitely until they have a man's name on their lists. They do not wish to prohibit a legitimate publisher from crediting a legitimate subscriber if it is desirable to both. The new amendment was made known this afternoon to Representative Clark, of Florida, who called at the department with Colonel T. J. Apple, editor of The Lake City, Florida Press Association.

GROSS IMMORALITY ALLEGED

And Also Gross Neglect of Official Duty—Removal Was the Outcome of a Long and Sensational Investigation.

Richmond, Va., March 26.—The general assembly of Virginia today adopted a resolution removing Judge J. W. G. Blackstone, of the eleventh circuit, from office. The grounds upon which this action was based were immorality and gross neglect of official duty. There was but one dissenting vote in each branch. Removal was the outcome after a long and rather sensational investigation.

By John Corrigan, Jr.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—(Special.)—The postoffice department has again modified its recent order in regard to lapsed subscriptions, and will permit newspaper and magazine publishers to continue to send their publications to subscribers whose subscriptions have expired, provided the subscriber requests that it be done. The whole end sought by the department is to prevent publications having fraudulent subscription lists from sending their publications indefinitely until they have a man's name on their lists. They do not wish to prohibit a legitimate publisher from crediting a legitimate subscriber if it is desirable to both. The new amendment was made known this afternoon to Representative Clark, of Florida, who called at the department with Colonel T. J. Apple, editor of The Lake City, Florida Press Association.

MONTGOMERY LADY WAS STRICKEN AT PRAYER

Montgomery, Ala., March 26.—Stricken on today while at prayer in St. John's Episcopal church, where she had worshipped many years, Mrs. Alice Hamilton, one of the wealthiest women in Montgomery, died a few hours later at her home.

Mrs. Hamilton was the widow of John C. Hamilton, many years prominently identified with cotton compresses in Alabama. She was 64 years old and a native of Mobile.

shapely, pretty figure, and many of them deplore the loss of their girlish forms after marriage. The bearing of children is often destructive to the mother's shapeliness. All of this can be avoided, however, by the use of Mother's Friend before baby comes, as this great liniment always prepares the body for the strain upon it, and preserves the symmetry of her form. Mother's Friend overcomes all the danger of child-birth, and carries the expectant mother safely through this critical period without pain. It is woman's greatest blessing. Thousands gratefully tell of the benefit and relief derived from the use of this wonderful remedy. Sold by all druggists at $1.00 per bottle. Our little book, telling all about this liniment, will be sent free.

COOPER TELLS REPORTER WHY HE ACCOMPLISHES SO MUCH

No man in recent years has been more successful in restoring human health than L. T. Cooper. During his stay in Chicago, and while he was meeting thousands of people daily, he gave the following reason for the remarkable demand for his medicine to a reporter: "My New Discovery is successful because it corrects the stomach. My theory is that few can be sick if the digestive apparatus is working properly. It naturally follows that few can be well with a poor digestion."

"I know from experience that most of the tired, half-sick people that are so common now-a-days have half-sick stomachs. Put the stomach in shape, and nature does the rest. The result is general good health. My medicine does this. That is why fifty thousand people here in Chicago are using it who never heard of me until a month ago."

Among the fifty thousand mentioned by Mr. Cooper who used his medicine in Chicago is Mrs. Hilda Pfeuffer, living at 1203 Ainslie avenue. This is the statement she makes concerning her experience with the medicine: "I have been sick for six years with stomach trouble. I was always hungry, but did not dare to eat much, as I had severe pains in my stomach, and also through my body. I could not sleep at night and was very restless. I was also very nervous, and would have severe headaches. I was constipated, and always felt bloated after eating."

"I had tried many remedies, but could secure no relief, until one day I noticed in the newspapers what wonderful results Cooper's medicines were accomplishing in Chicago. I decided to try them, and shortly after commencing the treatment I began to feel better. I did not have those severe pains in my stomach, and I could sleep at night; my appetite improved, and I can now eat well. I am feeling like a new woman."

"I am very thankful to Mr. Cooper for what his remedies have done for me. They have restored me to good health, and I would advise any one who suffers as I did to try them."

We sell the Cooper medicines. They are easily the most celebrated preparations ever introduced in this country, growing in popularity daily.—Jacobs' Pharmacy.

30 BAPTIST CHURCHES WILL HOLD REVIVALS

The great simultaneous revival, in which thirty Baptist churches in Atlanta and vicinity will cooperate, will begin at the Tabernacle Sunday. Dr. Broughton will preach both morning and night, and a mass meeting for Christian workers will be held Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, presided over by Dr. John F. Purser, chairman of the evangelistic committee, and the different pastors of the Baptist churches of Atlanta will take part, and the whole campaign will be presented.

On Monday, Dr. J. L. White, of Greensboro, N. C., will arrive and preach at the Tabernacle every night for two weeks.

This will be the beginning of the great April evangelistic campaign in all the Baptist churches of Atlanta. The other churches of the city will hold special meetings along through the month, all the churches taking part as far as possible in each of these meetings.

The general campaign will be in charge of Evangelist W. W. Hamilton, Southern Baptist Convention, and he will be assisted by a large number of other evangelists.

have passed through that and are on the road upward. The financial disturbance came from the high places—the high financiers. Another cause that has contributed to the panic was that those who held high-priced stocks sold them, and rushed them down, hoping to have them again raised. The panic is being now, because the stocks are being bought again, and they are going up every day. It is, therefore, perfectly apparent that if the unloading process has been going on to cause a panic, the loading up process is now going on to restore things to normal order. Statistician Allen shows that during the two months of the panic the railroad transportation was not affected. He shows that business is being done in a normal way, that the panic is over. So far as our state is concerned there has been no reduction in freight rates to cause a panic. The only change in rates was as to passenger rates. We are bringing about what I told you twelve months ago, that we are entitled to, a 2 1/2-cent rate, and a 2 cents mileage book. The railroads have fallen off in freight, but they have not fallen off in passenger rates.

Greatest State in Union.
"We have the greatest state in the union. We have resources in agriculture. Our state has that product that has furnished the south its millions and its billions, lint cotton. We have minerals, iron, and water power, manufacturing. With these resources and the panic over, let us in a business way do away with anything about hard times, and in a few months we will have the most prosperous period in our history. Let us not, however, forget that manhood rises above money."

President King was then introduced, and made his address. He said: "It is no part, as I said at the Rome convention, last year, of a king to make an address. We, the members of the Travelers' Protective Association, appreciate the cordial welcome we have received. We are glad to come to Atlanta, and who is not? Up in my town at Rome, a few hours' ride from Chattanooga (laughter) much is often said of the Atlanta spirit. You have had every thing in the line of conventions, excepting the democratic convention, and I expect that soon. If it comes, have your candidate for president. I would have Governor Hoke Smith nominated." (Applause and repeated applause.)

was never witnessed by the people of any nation."

Congress, he declared, no longer was a legislative department. "It is simply a machine to record the will of the man at the other end of the avenue." And it did not deserve any more respect from him or the people than it now received.

"He wields the big stick with one hand," Mr. Beall continued, "and a fountain pen with the other, and he raises havoc with both. He is a bronco buster and a trust buster, the only difference being that in busting a bronco he blindsfolds the animal, and in busting a trust he blindsfolds himself. He can draw the finest bead on a wildcat, but can't get a bead on the constitution at all. He is a contradiction. He declaims against race suicide, but insists on keeping a tariff on safety pins and baby buggies."

Roosevelt Freesling Reactionaries.
"He cultivates the artistic; he whitewashes Paul Morton, and is now frescoing the reactionaries with a flint of blue."

"He can see a war cloud before breakfast, but gets color blind before lunch time."

"He is generous: Given the power by and with the advice and consent of the senate to make treaties, he is willing to relieve that body of this onerous duty and do it all himself."

"He is a magician: He can transform our 'Uncle' Joe, a roaring lion before us in the house, into a purring kitten at the white house."

"He is the Sandoz of the century. He can hold the senate in one hand and the house in the other, and keep both in the air most of the time."

"He can even nominate a presidential candidate," Mr. Beall declared. "He is the strangest combination of wisdom and folly, of honesty and obsequy, and of the patriot and the politician, of courage and rashness, and of the spectacular and the grotesque that this republic ever saw, and just what niche he is to occupy in the temple of his country's history God and the future alone can tell."

MR. VEATCH IS EXONERATED.

McCallie Gives Out Statement Regarding Bauxite Discoveries.

State Geologist S. W. McCallie yesterday gave out a statement, in which he completely exonerates his assistant, Otto Veatch, from charges recently published, intimating that he had secretly given out private information as to the existence of bauxite deposits in Wilkinson county, Georgia, which resulted in parties purchasing the land for less than its value because the owners were ignorant of its mineral wealth.

Professor McCallie made a complete investigation of the matter, and is fully satisfied that there was no such indiscretion committed by anyone connected with the department. How the information got out he does not know, but he is fully satisfied that it did not escape through the geological department.

Professor McCallie's statement is as follows:

Editor: Constitution. Statements published in an afternoon paper in regard to the newly discovered bauxite deposits near McIntyre, Wilkinson county, Georgia, would tend to cast a suspicion on Mr. Otto Veatch, assistant state geologist, inasmuch as it might be inferred that he had given information to other parties than the land owners. I have made an investigation of the facts of the case and my investigation has resulted in my having proceeded, entirely exonerate Mr. Veatch and free him from any suspicion of wrongdoing in the matter whatsoever.

SOUTHERN ENTERS SUIT FOR FRANCHISE TAX PAID

Seeks Recovery of $22,458.30—Will Probably Reopen Contest Over Franchise Matter.

Birmingham, Ala., March 26.—The Southern railway today filed suit against Probate Judge S. E. Green for the recovery of $22,458.30, the amount of the state franchise tax recently paid under protest.

This will probably reopen the contest between the Southern and the state of Alabama. The franchise tax on corporations was a feature imposed by the last legislature.

DROPPED INTO THE BAY.

Valuable Instruments Fell When the Derrick Broke.

Pensacola, Fla., March 26.—Range-finding implements, search lights and other apparatus belonging to the coast artillery department, dropped into the bay this afternoon when an immense box containing all of the equipment was being lifted from a barge to the wharf.

The instruments are valued at over $10,000 and is the only set owned by the department.

The instruments were sent here some weeks ago to be tested at the local fortifications and after this work the department ordered all of them packed and shipped to San Francisco, where they were to be used upon the arrival of the big fleet of Admiral Evans there.

This afternoon, when being hoisted the derrick broke and the box fell into the water, about thirty-five feet in depth. The instruments have not yet been recovered and it is feared they have been practically ruined by the salt water.

SALESMAN DIES SUDDENLY.

Henry Hall Stricken While at Work in Store.

Greenville, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—Henry A. Hall died here suddenly yesterday. He was a salesman for J. A. Thrasher & Co., merchant. He was stricken while at work in the store and died in twenty minutes.

The doctors say his death was due to heart disease. He was a son of the late Dr. E. F. Hall, and is survived by his wife, two daughters and a son.

Japanese for Brazil.

Rio Janeiro, March 26.—The Japanese steamer Kasado is due to leave Kobe April 12 to bring to Brazil 1,000 Japanese agricultural laborers to work in the state of Sao Paulo. The federal government, it appears, has decided to encourage this immigration, and the first contracts for field laborers already have been signed with a Japanese emigration company.

Suits FANCY WORSTEDS

These striped worsteds are quite the thing. The modish methods by which they are manipulated—as shown in these we are exhibiting—are most attractive.

They have a dash and style, have these striped and fancy woollens, that is seldom achieved in the more sober fabrics. There are the "mannish" suitings with pin stripes, the light grounds with dark lines varying in width from hair stripes to those a quarter of an inch wide.

Some are strictly tailored—all severe lines, uncompromising collars, revers "of formal cut," prim little tails and very, very correct style.

Then again others break into the more dressy effects—and we find pointed and rounded edges, dashes of fancy braid, Mandarin or Butterfly sleeves—and other indications of the less serious moods of the designer.

Nearly all are 27 and 30-inch lengths.

We've specialized the Fancy Worsteds in this little announcement: there are scores, hundreds, of other things, of course. We are very strong on our popular priced suits this season and you can have a stunning frock from $25 upward.

ATLANTA S. A. E. ALUMNI M'ELREATH INDORSED

HAVE SMOKER TONIGHT AT BIG MASS MEETING

The members of the Atlanta Alumni Association of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity will have a smoker tonight at Durand's Bohemian, the merriment being scheduled to start at 7:30 o'clock. The late comers will not have to sit in the rear during the first course, following the theater rule, but all the members are urged to be on hand at the appointed time. The smoker will be an informal affair, and no set program has been prepared.

MR. VEATCH IS EXONERATED.

McCallie Gives Out Statement Regarding Bauxite Discoveries.

State Geologist S. W. McCallie yesterday gave out a statement, in which he completely exonerates his assistant, Otto Veatch, from charges recently published, intimating that he had secretly given out private information as to the existence of bauxite deposits in Wilkinson county, Georgia, which resulted in parties purchasing the land for less than its value because the owners were ignorant of its mineral wealth.

Professor McCallie made a complete investigation of the matter, and is fully satisfied that there was no such indiscretion committed by anyone connected with the department. How the information got out he does not know, but he is fully satisfied that it did not escape through the geological department.

Professor McCallie's statement is as follows:

Editor: Constitution. Statements published in an afternoon paper in regard to the newly discovered bauxite deposits near McIntyre, Wilkinson county, Georgia, would tend to cast a suspicion on Mr. Otto Veatch, assistant state geologist, inasmuch as it might be inferred that he had given information to other parties than the land owners. REST IS NEEDED BY SEN. TILLMAN

Will Not Be Strong Enough to Resume Work This Session.

Columbia, S. C., March 26.—Dr. J. W.
Babcock, of this city, who is Senator Tillman's closest medical adviser, returned from the senator's home at 9 o'clock tonight. Just before leaving Trenton, Dr. Babcock said that Senator Tillman dictated the following statement:

"I am improving, but improving slowly. While I do not recognize any indications of organic trouble, I feel that I will not get strong enough to resume work in Washington this session."

Dr. Babcock thinks that Senator Tillman is getting along as well as could be expected. When he reached Trenton today the senator had been out on the piazza and he did not seem at all exhausted from his exertions. He had no fever and his pulse is absolutely normal in every respect, being 72 to the minute, soft and regular. The nausea and vomiting have entirely disappeared. His appetite is returning and the numbness has disappeared from his face and hands.

He is much less depressed than he has been and is taking a hopeful view of his case. His family and physicians have been urging him to take a long-needed rest, and he is reluctantly coming around to their way of thinking.
This afternoon he received a letter from a colleague in congress begging him to take a rest of six months at least.

INFANTILE DISEASES RAGE.

New York Institutions Overcrowded
as Result of Money Stringency.

New York, March 26.—Epidemics of infantile disease have caused the quarantining of four institutions for the care of children in Brooklyn. Measles, scarlet fever and chicken pox are the prevalent maladies which have forced the health authorities to take charge of these institutions, all of them overcrowded as a result of the financial stringency. Superintendent Goodhue, of the bureau of dependent children, says that much of the sickness among the little ones is due to a lack of proper nourishment in the homes from which they have come.

No Money to Ship Silver.

Washington, March 26.—Secretary
Cortelyou has issued a general circular announcing that the amount appropriated by congress for the transportation of silver coin for the year 1908 having become exhausted, "no more standard silver dollars will be sent to applicants free of charge for transportation from the office of the treasurer or the several assistant treasurers of the United States."

The way of the transgressor is Lard

The wise housewife specifies Cottolene every time in place of lard. Anyone with a particle of respect for his stomach would prefer a pure vegetable product to one made from the fat of the hog.

Cottolene is always pure; lard isn't.

Cottolene will make more palatable food than lard, and food that any stomach can digest with ease. Lard is a friend of indigestion.

Cottolene is put up in odor-proof, sealed tin pails;
most lard comes in bulk,
and will absorb any old odor which is near it.

You can prove every word
we say by buying and trying a pail of Cottolene. All good grocers sell it; all the great cooking authorities of America recommend it.

KOREAN'S BULLET KILLS STEVENS

American Diplomat Dies in San Francisco Hospital.

KOREAN GREATLY PLEASED

When Told of Stevens' Death, Man Who Fired the Bullet Said,
"I Am Glad. He Was
No Friend of Korea."

San Francisco, Cal., March 26.—Durham White Stevens, the diplomat shot by in Wan Chang, a young Korean, on Monday, died at the St. Francis hospital last night following an operation. Death was due to peritonitis. The operation disclosed that the assassin's bullet had perforated the intestines in six places.

At the bedside when death came were Chosoe Koeke, Japanese consul general in San Francisco; Morris Wilson and Colonel W. A. Simpson, personal friends of Mr. Stevens, and Doctors Seunwait, Terry and Huntington.
Mr. Stevens regained consciousness only once after the operation, and then said he was in great pain. The attending physicians realized at 6 o'clock last night that death was certain in a few hours, and operated in the faint hope of saving his life.

Consul General Koike was greatly affected by the death of Stevens. Relatives are on the way from New York, and the body will remain here awaiting their disposition.

In Wan Chang, the Korean who fired
the shot which proved fatal to Stevens, when informed last night at the jail of his victim's death, received the news without surprise and with manifest delight.

Since the day of the shooting Chang has been expressing the hope that Stevens' wounds might prove fatal.
Last night, when asked if he was sorry for what he had done, Chang said:
"No, I am glad. He was no friend of Korea, and he is better dead."

Stevens' death will result in a charge of murder being brought against both Chang, who fired the fatal shot, and Chun, his accomplice, who attacked Stevens as he alighted from his automobile at the ferry building.

Chun, who was wounded by a wild shot from his companion's revolver, is at the Lane hospital, where it was said last night that he was apparently on the road to recovery.

Ten-Hour Day Adopted.

Columbia, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—
The cotton mills of Columbia have decided to go on a ten-hour basis, beginning April 6. The mills now give a half-holiday on Saturdays and run sixty-three and one-half hours per week. Under the new plan only sixty hours per week will be required. It is said this is the standard in the Carolina mills.

NO PROTECTION FOR GAMBLERS

New York Assembly Passes
Bills Favored by Gov.

Hughes.

Albany, N. Y., March 26.—The assembly this afternoon passed, by a decisive majority, the bills designed to abolish the legal protection of gambling at race tracks in this state, in accordance with the recommendation of Governor Hughes. In his second annual message to the legislature.

The first of these bills, that to eliminate the discrimination which has legalized gambling within race track enclosures, while it is a felony elsewhere, after several amendments had been voted down, was adopted, 126 to 9.

The other bill, amending the penal code by making the penalty for gambling imprisonment, with no alternative of fine, was passed, 126 to 7.

The senate bills on the subject are yet to be voted upon.

SENATOR SMITH GIVEN HIS SEAT

But This Action Does Not Finally Dispose of Case.

Washington, March 26.—Although the senate met today with the intention of devoting the entire session of the currency bill, within five minutes after being called to order the credentials of Senator-Elect John Walter Smith, of Maryland, became the subject of a discussion that consumed nearly four hours.

The result of the extended debate on the propriety of swearing in Mr. Smith was a vote of 34 to 29 in favor of receiving his credentials and leaving the regularity of his election to be considered by the senate committee on privileges and elections, and by the senate later.

Mr. Rayner presented the credentials of his colleague, and asked that he be sworn in. Mr. Burrows, of Michigan, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, objected to the admission of the senator-elect on the ground that the law requires that two Tuesdays shall intervene between the time notice of a vacancy in the senate is given and an election. As the late Senator Whyte died at 7 o'clock on Tuesday and his successor was chosen on the following Tuesday, Mr. Burrows claimed that the statute had been violated, and he suggested that he be not allowed to take his seat.

Senator Rayner made an earnest appeal for the reception of his colleague.
He claimed that the statute had been complied with, that to deny his colleague his seat would make necessary an extra legislature of Maryland at a cost of $50,000, and that even if the contention of the chairman of the committee on privileges and elections should prove to be correct, Senator-Elect Smith should be sworn in and his case considered by the proper committee.

Many speeches were made, and when a vote was finally taken 34 senators favored swearing in the senator-elect,
about twelve of them being republicans, and 22 favored excluding him. This temporary conclusion of his case gives Mr. Smith his seat, but does not finally dispose of the question as to his right to retain it. The committee on privileges and elections will now take the matter up for consideration.

SHOT AT THE CONDUCTOR.

This Is the Charge Against a Negro Jailed at Douglasville.

Douglasville, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—Alex Jackson, a negro, was lodged in jail here this afternoon charged with shooting at Conductor Clarence Davis, near Austell, several days ago.

When he attempted to eject this negro and two others from his train they began firing at him and he was forced to jump from his train and run into the woods.

Although Conductor Davis was shot at three times he was not hurt.

ECLECTIC PHYSICIANS WILL RECEIVE DIPLOMAS

Commencement Exercises of Georgia College at the Grand on Tuesday Afternoon.

The annual commencement exercises of the Georgia College of Eclectic Medicine will be held at the Grand Tuesday afternoon, March 31, at 2:30 o'clock.
At this time the class of 1908, which is the largest in the history of the institution, will receive the diplomas of the college. The address of the afternoon will be delivered by Hon. Robert Lee Avery. The faculty of the college, composed of many of the prominent eclectic physicians of the city, is as follows:

John N. Goss, A. B., M. D., president;
Ezra B. Thomas, M. D., dean; Giles
Hatchcock, M. D.; J. H. Powell, M. D.;
George A. Doss, M. D.; M. T. Johnson,
M. D.; G. W. D. Patterson, Jr., M. D.; J. V. M. Cain, M. D.; L. N. Stone, M. D.;
J. W. White, M. D.; Robert L.
Avery, A. B., B. L.; W. M. Durham,
M. D.

The program of the day, in full, will be as follows:
Music, opening prayer, report of proctor, music; address, representing S. M.
S. Emmet E. Erwin; music; valedictory address, Henry D. Youmans; music; delivery of diplomas, Colonel C. J.
Simmons, president board of trustees;
music; annual address, Colonel Robert Lee Avery; music.

Several Blind Tigers Caught.

Columbus, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)— Several blind tiger cases have been made out by the city police and county balliffs this week. There has been more activity along that line during the past few days than at any period
since the prohibition law went into effect. At the same time there has been a slump in the "moonshine" industry in west Georgia. The first case in this section of the state for illicit distilling of the year was made out a day or two ago by one of the revenue officers.

IN ARRANGING MATTERS GROOM NEGLECTED BRIDE

Douglasville, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—Arthur Landmon, who was married to Miss Onie Jackson about ten days ago and who claims he was forced to give up his bride at the point of a pistol, had his father-in-law arrested yesterday on the charge of pointing a pistol at him.

SHORTS' SON-IN-LAW SUED.

New York Tailor Wants Court to Pay for Clothes.

New York, March 26.—Judge Conlon, of the city court, has under consideration a motion in a suit of James Cavanaugh, a tailor of London and Paris, against the Duke De Caulnes, who recently married Miss Theodora Shonts, daughter of Theodore P. Shonts. The suit is to recover $1,345 alleged to be due for clothes furnished by the tailor to the duke in 1901. The motion is to set aside the alleged service of the summons in the case. The plaintiff's attorney has filed affidavits to the effect that the complaint was served on the duke in New York a few days before his marriage, but the duke's attorneys have produced counter affidavits to the effect that a mistake was made and that the summons was infact served on Byron De Conde, a friend of the duke, who came to America to attend the marriage.

Tobacco Warehouse Burned.

Cincinnati, Ohio, March 26.—The last tobacco warehouse of T. S. Hamilton & Co., situated at Fourth and Bakewell streets, Covington, Ky., was destroyed by fire early this morning, entailing a loss estimated at $150,000. The fire is thought to have been of incendiary origin. Five residences and a saloon were also destroyed.

LIFE TERM FOR BURGLARY.

Negro Was Also Guilty of Brutal Assault on Woman.

SHONTS' SON-IN-LAW SUED.

Pay for Clothes.

New York, March 26.—After having been convicted of a burglary, William Clark, 35 years old, a negro, has been sentenced to state prison for life by Judge Foster in general sessions.
Clark was convicted of robbing the apartments of Mrs. Ida Clark last September, after he had brutally assaulted the woman. In 1897 Clark was sentenced to two years in state prison, and five years later got six years and six months.
The prisoner addressed the court,
saying he was innocent of the charge
on which he had just been convicted.
At the close of his speech, Judge Foster declared that if there had been any doubt in his mind as to the negro's guilt, the latter's speech had removed it.

Ocean Ticket Interchange.

New York, March 26.—An arrangement of ticket interchange which was brought about by the recent conference in London of the various trans-Atlantic steamship lines, has gone into effect. The arrangement provides that any person holding a ticket to return on a specified steamer of one line may,
if necessary, return with that ticket on a steamer of another line, which is

LIBRARY SCHOOL FORMS GRADUATE ASSOCIATION

Will Promote Interests of School and Bring Fellowship for Class Members.

The members of the Carnegie Library Training school, of Atlanta, have formed a graduates' association for the purpose of promoting the interests of the school and bringing into closer fellowship the members of the various classes.
The name of the organization will be the Alumnae Library Training School.
Its officers are: Miss Eloise Alexander,
Atlanta, president; Miss Constance Kirschner, Yale university library, vice president; Miss Marion Bucher, Agnes Scott, Decatur, secretary-treasurer. The honorary members are Mrs. M. F. Howland, Boston; Miss Mary W. Plummer, Brooklyn; Miss Julia Rankin, Atlanta;
Miss Elfrida Everhart, Atlanta; Miss
Percival Sneed, Atlanta; Miss Anna May Stevens, Atlanta; Mrs. Lewis Gaines, Atlanta.

The Carnegie library is very popular these days. The determination to keep the reading room open on Sunday is welcomed by a large class of readers.
In order to inform strangers and out-of-town visitors of the library hours,
signs will soon be placed in all hotels,
railroad stations and the larger boarding houses.

Quite an acquisition to the library has been the recent loan by D. D. G. Hodges, of Cincinnati, of thirty volumes of New York point books for the blind. All blind persons can obtain these books and keep them indefinitely.

Threatened With Death.

New York, March 26.—Controller Herman A. Metz today received three letters threatening him with death unless work on proposed subways in this city is begun at once. In each case the writers declared themselves to be neither Black Hand operators nor anarchists, but laborers out of employment, who must either work or starve.

AMERICUS YOUNG LADIES HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Miscellaneous Threw Stone Through Car Window, Striking Seat Occupied by Young Ladies.

Americus, Ga., March 26.—(Special).—Three American young ladies, daughters of Judge Z. A. Littlejohn, Solicitor General Hooper and former Judge Allen Fort, narrowly escaped injury last night aboard a Central railway train approaching Americus.

Near Fort Valley some miscreant concealed in the darkness hurled a stone through the coach window, striking the seat upon which the young ladies were sitting. Their escape from injury was miraculous. All were badly frightened.

BIG FLOWER CARNIVAL AT ST. NICHOLAS RINK

Interested crowds will throng the St. Nicholas rink Saturday, the three seasons—morning, afternoon and evening—marking the opening of the big rink for the summer season.

Like old wine, the floor of a skating rink improves with age and the floor at St. Nicholas is just two years better than it was when it was first laid. Hundreds of pairs of new Winslow skates have been procured, music will be furnished and nothing left undone which would add to the joy of the skater.

Wednesday, April the first, there will be a magnificent flower carnival, open to all skaters in costume, a gorgeous array of young men and women wearing tissue paper costumes representing flowers, most successful and perfect representations.

Wants Appointment by Grand Jury.

Hartwell, Ga., March 26.—(Special).—The grand jury at the recent term of Hart superior court in their general presentation recommended for the law relative to county commissioners being changed from election by the people to appointment by the grand jury. So far no one has announced for either of the three places on the board of commissioners of Hart county.

SOLICITOR GENERAL RACE WARMING UP AT SAVANNAH

Travis Addressed Letter to Mayor in Regard to City Employees Taking Part in Fight.

Savannah, Ga., March 26.—(Special).—Savannah's political fight is on in dead earnest. The race for solicitor general is not a factional, but a personal one, and on this score Walter C. Hartridge and Robert J. Travis seem to have the drop on their competitors.

Travis wrote a letter to Mayor Tiedeman asking if any city employee would have a right to vote and work for whom he pleased in the campaign, without jeopardizing his position on the city's payroll. Mayor Tiedeman replied that any city employee could do as he pleased politically, provided he did properly the work the city is paying him to do. Political meetings are becoming of nightly occurrence and the prospects are that a very bitter campaign will be fought.

BIRTHS ARE BEING REPORTED.

Vital Statistics Are Much Improved, Says Health Clerk.

Lenox, Thornton, clerk of the board of health, stated yesterday that since The Constitution called attention to the law requiring physicians and others to report all births that occur in the city, there has been a marked improvement in this branch of the vital statistics.

"For the past week," stated Clerk Thornton, "the reports of births have been much larger and more regular. I believe that in a short while we will get full reports of births. The Constitution has already done a great deal of good. I do not think that physicians in the city meant to violate the law, but they had simply grown careless from habit."

Mother Mary Dead.

Omaha, Neb., March 26.—Mother Mary, of Mount Carmel, mother superior of Good Shepherd convent, died last night of consumption. Her name was Mary Lucile Powers before entering the order. She was born in Memphis in 1868.

LEAGUE CALLS A CONVENTION

There Will Be Two Republican Conventions in Georgia.

A call by the Republican State League of Georgia, signed by T. M. Blodgett, chairman, and J. T. Hood, secretary, forecasts two state republican conventions at Macon and this presages a "hot time in the old state in May."

The other convention has been called by the republican executive committee. Chairman Blodgett, of the league, says that his crowd has secured the auditorium at Macon for May 14, and the other crowd says it is going to meet at the same place and at the same time. Even when peace and harmony were doing their best, republican conventions in Georgia have been noted for very lively scenes, so that it does not seem amiss to prophesy a real hot time ahead this year.

This all means that there will be two sets of delegates to the national republican convention from Georgia and that there will be a contest for the committee on credentials to settle.

The call of the "League" is as follows:

Call of the State League.

To the Republicans of Georgia: You are hereby requested to assemble in mass meeting to be held at the county seat of each county in Georgia and there to elect delegates to the republican state convention to be held at Macon May 14, 1908. You are entitled to two delegates for each member in the lower house of the Georgia legislature. It will be the duty of this convention to elect four delegates and four alternate delegates from the state at large to nominate electors to place before the people a full state ticket and to perfect a reorganization of the party on a true and equitable basis.

All republicans, regardless of color or any unjust, illegal or unconstitutional restrictions, shall, in the enjoyment of their citizenship under the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments of the constitution of the United States, be permitted to take part in the deliberations of these meetings and in the selection of delegates. That the supremacy of the people shall obtain and not the will of the republican state central committee, dominated by federal office-holders, benchmen and political tricksters, the most rotten and corrupt organization that has ever disgraced any state of this great union and which has held in ignominious disfranchisement every black and white republican in Georgia for the last thirty years. Hold these meetings, these delegates and send your action with the names of delegates to John H. Devereux, Savannah, Ga., and J. T. Hood, Atlanta, Ga. T. M. BLODGETT, Chairman. J. T. HOOD, Secretary.

CRUSHERS TO NAME DATE.

Committee on Arrangements Selected to Arrange Details of Meeting.

President M. S. Harper, of the Cotton Seed Crushers' Association of Georgia, has appointed a committee on arrangements to name the date, place and speakers for the annual meeting of this association to be held in June.

This committee is composed of Fielding Wallace, of Augusta, secretary of the association; W. E. McCaw, of Macon; Claud Douthitt and W. M. Hutchinson, of Atlanta, with President Harper as chairman.

This committee will meet, in about ten days, at a place to be designated by the chairman.

Already invitations have been extended to the association to meet at Meriwether, White Sulphur Springs, Warm Springs, Wrightsville Beach, Toxaway and Atlantic Beach, Fla.

It was at this latter place that the association met and held such a successful meeting last year. The program will be largely outlined by this committee, and the indications are that men of national importance, identified with the handling of cotton seed products, will be listed among the speakers, as well as those in Georgia, who are friends of this great southern byproduct. Through Secretary Wallace the association membership has been run up into the neighborhood of 200, and includes every prominent cotton seed oil man in the state.

Graham Proved His Own Case.

Macon, Ga., March 26.—(Special).—C. R. Graham, the traveling man for a Chattanooga coal concern, who was grabbed by the authorities at Camak, on a charge of purse stealing, referred by a Warrenton lady, proved his innocence in short order when taken back to the place by Sheriff Brinkley yesterday. The county official, together with Attorney E. P. Davis, signed a paper in which they stated that they were impressed with the man's dignity, with which the accused man disposed of the matter, and convinced them that he was in no way responsible. Mr. Graham is in Macon attending to his usual duties.

FAIR WEATHER AND WARMER

Very Little Change Scheduled in the Temperature Today.

The weather: Fair, warmer this morning, and colder this afternoon. There is a cold wave in the northwest. The change will be very slight, if at all. And wasn't it fine? For a convention day it could not have been better. The sun was dazzling, and the moon was silvery. The poets sang, and the mu-

The T. P. A.'s have captured the town for a few days. Mayor Joyner has given them the key, and they are doing almost anything they want to. Why worry? Traveling men always have a good time and after the rush, they generally say:

ALABAMA T. P. A.'S TO MEET.

Nearly Two Hundred Delegates Expected at Selma on 27th.

Selma, Ala., March 26.—(Special).—The annual state convention of the Travelers' Protective Association of Alabama will convene at the Central City club tomorrow at noon, and it is expected that there will be in attendance during the meeting about 200 delegates.

The session promises to be a most important as well as one of the largest in the history of the organization in this state, and a number of prominent members of the organization will attend the session. Friday night, at the Hotel Albert, the local post will tender the delegates a large banquet, and preparations have been made for over 200 plates on this occasion.

H. M. Hooper, state president of the association, reached Selma tonight from his home in Mobile. It is very probable that the next state president of the association will be Hon. V. B. Atkins, of this city, who is next in line of promotion.

TOO MUCH WORK AT SCHOOL.

Boys and Girls Are Driven, Says Mrs. Caldwell.

New York, March 26.—Mrs. M. M. Caldwell, of Ohio, in a lecture on "Life as a Fine Art in Relation to the Arts of Life," to an audience composed exclusively of women, said:

"Boys and girls work too hard at school, thus unfitting themselves for the real business of life. The work for the glory of graduation, and true education is lacking in them."

Mrs. Caldwell declared education was bought too often with an impaired physique as the price, and that a high state of mental cultivation thus obtained made a girl's determination to be a blessing to the race, since she was unfitted for her real mission in the plan of creation.

Will Ask Improved Schedules.

Macon, Ga., March 26.—(Special).—Property owners in North Highlands interested in many improvements for their community have asked the Macon Railway and Light Company for a fifteen-minute car service to and from town during the busy hours of the day. The company will have the matter under consideration, and the request will probably be granted. North Highlands is fast becoming a fine residence community.

FEW TEACHERS HAVE TO WAIT

Salaries Are Paid Promptly in Almost All the Counties.

Inquiry as to the methods and time of payment of school teachers prompted by a communication from Superintendent F. E. Land, of the Cordele public schools, develops some interesting facts. Superintendent Land's communication is as follows:

"Editor Constitution.—So much is being said now about delayed payments of the Georgia school teachers that I am inclined to call attention to the fact that Crisp county is unacquainted with such a state of affairs. While in some counties of the state the teachers may have to wait for their money, they are paid in Crisp at the end of each month. The county board of education, with its most efficient county school commissioner, Hon. J. W. Bivins, arranges to have the money ready for the teachers when their work is done. Though the state may be behind with the county, the board of education does not assume for that reason that it has a right to delay payments on contracts made with teachers. Crisp county has paid the teachers promptly since its creation as a county. F. E. LAND, Superintendent of Schools, Cordele, Ga."

That the foregoing is the practice in many other counties of the state was learned at the office of the state school commissioner. In just how many counties it is done the commissioner did not know, as he keeps no record of them. It is known, however, to be the practice in all the larger counties of the state, such as Fulton, Richmond, Chatham, Bibb and many of the smaller ones to pay the teachers as soon as their money is earned, whether the state has paid the county all that is due it or not.

School Fund Balances.

It was also stated at the office of the state school commissioner that there are some sixty counties in Georgia which have, or until recently had, balances of their school fund still in the state treasury. In other words, these counties had money to their credit, and there is still $180,000 in the treasury to their credit, which they are entitled to draw at any time they need for it. That they have not drawn it is evidence of the fact that they have not needed it for the purpose of promptly paying the teachers. The truth of the matter is, according to one state official, that many of the counties have caught up with their school payments long ago, and are accumulating these balances for the purpose of building new school houses. Several counties are said to have built new school houses in practically every one of their districts from the money they have saved on their pro rata of the state school fund. Evidently, if they were behind in payments to the teachers this could not be done.

It is true, however, that there are some counties in the state which have not caught up, and which do not follow the plan of Crisp and other counties, borrowing the money where necessary in order to pay the teachers promptly. Just how many of these there are is not recorded in the state school commissioner's office.

According to the best information that can be obtained, the records in the comptroller general's office, there has been paid out of the account of the public schools, during the first three months of 1908, $228,000 more than was paid out during the same period of 1907. But on January 1, 1907, there only remained a balance approximately $200,000 of the previous year's school fund, while on January 1, 1908, the balance still due on the 1907 fund was something like $1,127,000. It would appear from this, therefore, that the payments made up to the present time in 1908 are approximately the same as were made up to the same period in 1907.

Little, if Any, Larger.

The foregoing figures were secured from Captain W. H. Harrison, who keeps a record of all warrants drawn on the treasury in the office of the comptroller general. They would seem to make it appear that the payments to public schools have, so far, been little, if any, larger than was the case before the quarterly system of paying pensions was inaugurated. While more money had been paid out during the first three months of this year than for the same period of 1907, Captain Harrison attributes it to the fact that the balance due the schools at the beginning of 1908, from the 1907 fund, was larger than that still due at the beginning of 1907 from the previous year's fund. The difference in the two balances, it is pointed out, is practically the same as the increase in the 1906 payments over those of 1907.

PRIMARY IN LEE COUNTY.

J. P. Callaway Nominated for Senate, Beasley for House.

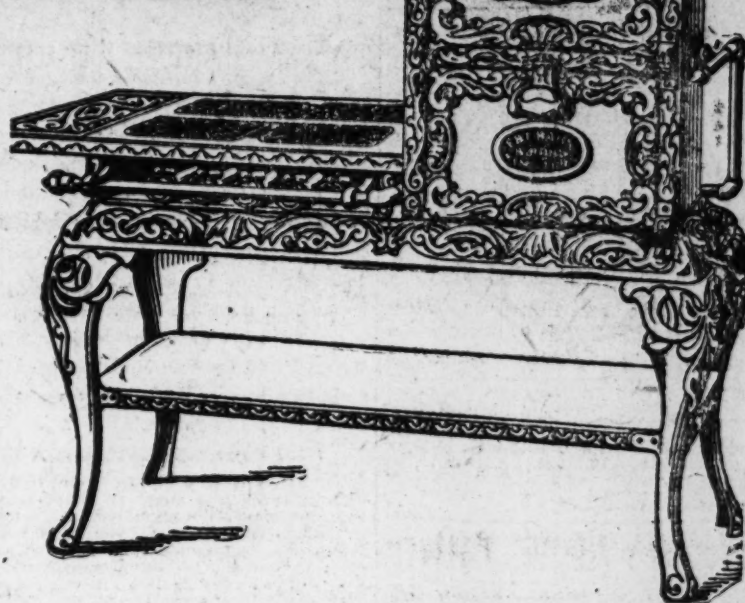

Leesburg, Ga., March 26.—(Special).—The primary today resulted as follows: Clerk, James Morgan; auditor, George C. Edwards; sheriff, S. B. Smith; treasurer, D. D. Hall; tax collector, F. T. King; receiver, D. W. Tison; senate, J. P. Callaway; representative, C. H. Beasley; judge city court, H. L. Long; solicitor, W. G. Martin; surveyor, A. H. Baldy; county commissioners elected by districts, and results not yet known. The treasurer and sheriff races were hotly contested, and the official majority of each is as follows: Smith, sheriff, 29; Hall, treasurer, 38. Callaway, for senator, had majority of 84.

$300,000 FOR NEW ORLEANS.

Government to Assist City in Levee Improvement.

Washington, March 26.—Senator Nelson was authorized by the committee on commerce to report favorably a bill making available for levee work on the Mississippi river in front of New Orleans $300,000 of the appropriation for the work between Cairo, Ill., and the head of the passes. The city of New Orleans is carrying on levee improvement work that will cost between three and four million dollars, but it has no authority to construct work in the bed of the Mississippi necessary to protect the levees. This part of the work will be done by the government. A delegation from New Orleans appeared before the commission in support of the bill. It included Mayor Martin Behrman, James W. Porch, president of the public belt railroad; Arsenie Ferrillat, member of the Louisiana board of engineers; Pearl Wright, capitalist, and Charles W. Thibodaux, chairman of the New Orleans board, and a Postal Authorities Act in the Case of Italian Publication.

Washington, March 26.—Postmaster General Meyer today issued an order annulling mailing privileges granted to "La Question Sociale," an Italian publication, issued by an alleged anarchist group at Paterson, N. The order was issued because, as the post office officials declare, "the publication is not a newspaper within the meaning of the law, but is devoted to what the editor terms the 'science' of extolling assassinations as a virtue."

Certainly, he will send "My Fleet" to China.

Cannon has been stringing barbed wire fences in front of Taft in Illinois.

And it is a hearty grip of welcome Atlanta gives the Knights of that state.

And even the rivers of Georgia rise to the occasion and contribute to the deluge.

After one message it is still his turn again, and we listen for the cry, "Next!"

No doubt the boys of the fleet will need to taper off on chop suey in China.

But, then, think—the humblest citizen of the country is at liberty to send a message to the president.

Some of the offices are meeting the candidates half-way. The offices don't want to be taken by surprise.

Not all the candidates—national and local—are "in the saddle." Some of them are excellent bareback riders.

However, the knock-down and drag-out feature shows that the Tennessee republican convention "covered the ground."

Governor Hughes is credited with saying that men are nine-tenths good. That should be a winning card in his campaign.

AS TO INCIDENTS AND ISSUES!

The Savannah Press makes this reference to the announcement which we recently published, stating that The Constitution proposed to give all the news of the pending campaign for governor:

The Atlanta Constitution will treat the approaching contest as a bear fight. The Constitution will give the news without especially discussing the incidents or the principles involved. As the hunter said when Bruin invaded his own household and cornered one of the members of his family: "This is a contest in which I can afford to be perfectly neutral." But after all, the proper province of a newspaper in a fight between democrats is intelligent, eloquent, consistent, unobtrusive neutrality.

The Press has sized it up correctly. That is just precisely the manner in which The Constitution proposes to treat the campaign, and the people of Georgia may rely upon it that there will be at least one paper from which they will be able to get everything of interest from both sides of the contest.

Incidents? Yes, The Constitution will give the incidents of the campaign in its news columns, whether they be Smith incidents or Brown incidents. As to discussing "the principles involved," to which The Press makes reference, The Press itself answers this proposition by another editorial article dealing with the question of port rates.

Here was one of the leading issues or "principles" of the last campaign, which found its way into important platform declaration, and yet when the campaign was ended it was dropped like a hot brick, relegated almost to the realm of the forgotten.

Here is what The Press says of it:

The candidacy of Mr. Smith and Mr. Brown might bring up the discussion of port rates in a very pointed way. There was always much foggy talk about this question. We should have to stand a written examination right off on the subject, although The Press has printed explanations of the matter several times. As we remember it, the port rates advocated by the Atlanta Freight Bureau gave a distinct advantage to the city of Atlanta and were not adopted by the railroad commission. Since Governor Smith's inauguration no attempt has been made to enforce the matter and port rates have been allowed to go by default. The Savannah Press attempted at the time to show the injustice of the proposition. In that port rate discussion our recollection is that Mr. Brown held the strong, sound end of the argument.

Again we ask what is the use of discussing issues or "principles," if such is to be their fate?

If principles are to be made for ante-election purposes alone, to be discarded when elections are over, what has the public to gain by any discussion of them? And yet "port rates" figured as one of the most conspicuous features of the Macon platform.

The campaign will, doubtless, be productive of numerous incidents of general interest to the public.

The Constitution will take pleasure in printing them, and what the candidates say about the issues involved.

It will then be up to the people to form their own judgment.

THE SPECIAL MESSAGE AND THE TARIFF.

Since the special message of the president is reported to have been framed after exhaustive conferences with ruling elements of both houses of the national legislature, it is to be assumed with a measure of hope that it will stimulate the current session to creative legislation along imperative lines.

To this statement should be appended one glaring and vital exception—the revision of the tariff. Mr. Roosevelt, confessedly an honest advocate of revision, admitting in this identical message its justice and advisability, has been beguiled by the stand-patters into recommending the postponement of definite action until next year. It is a policy radically out of line with the characteristic directness and courage of his stand upon public questions.

As to the proposition that child labor legislation should receive the attention of congress, we stand on our oft expressed opinion that regulation of child labor should be left to the jurisdiction of the respective states.

An employers' liability law should, by all means, be enacted at the present session. The president's recommendation for arbitration and other peaceful methods in industrial disputes, is also of urgent importance in view of the present state of business throughout the nation. The recommendations regarding amendment of the anti-trust law, and provision for the protection of stockholders in receiverships, is eminently praiseworthy. Legislation supplying a more adaptable currency, a system more commensurate with the needs and dignity of the greatest nation in the world, is so obviously essential as to dislodge the necessity of elaboration.

But it is keenly to be regretted that Mr. Roosevelt has permitted himself to fall into the trap of tariff revision postponement, which the obtuse and selfish stand-pat element has spread for him.

Such a policy is in precise accord with the traditional republican program of promising everything before and performing nothing after election, but it is disappointingly unlike the patriotic and broad-visioned statesmanship of the occupant of the white house.

Never has it failed in years past that the ingenious architects of republican campaigns have laid themselves out in pledges which fell little short of deeding to the voter, in the event of victory, the gold at the end of the rainbow. Rarely has a single one of these promises been kept, save in the present instance wherein a powerful personality in the white house practiced irresistible coercion with the support of the whole nation.

It looks now as though the same old hypnotic tariff reform promises are to be invoked, with—who can guarantee otherwise—the same result. Is the republican party in possession of a divine revelation that it will be triumphant, that it can ignore the present demand and blind itself to revision next year? Or is it so touché of those strange gods of special privilege from which it has never strayed very far, that it desires to keep a foot in both camps?

If the trust-supporting, unjust and progress-destroying tariff needs revision at all—and business men and manufacturers of hidebound republican allegiance testify emphatically in the affirmative—it needs revision NOW.

Undeniably, postponement renders the task more difficult; palpably, it is a subterfuge.

THE BOND SCOPE BROADENING.

Tax-payers who have doubted the need or feasibility of the civic improvements called for by the million-dollar bond issue proposal have only to follow the developments of the situation as seen in the testimony before the subcommittees of the chamber of commerce to experience conversion.

The sanitary and waterworks department, not to mention others of the municipal government, have given astounding and verified evidence of sufficient imperative deficiencies to justify the prorating of a generous portion of the projected issue to their maintenance and development.

Regarding the waterworks system alone, some enlightening revelations have been made. The report to the subcommittee of Manager Woodward showed that the receipts of the system had advanced from $83,339.39 in 1896, to $323,400.05 for the past year—a quadrupling in eleven years! Coupled with this demonstration was a matter-of-fact exhibit of the present status of the system, the insufficient facilities provided the people of Atlanta and the patent need of further expenditures.

Chairman Forrest Adair, of the subcommittee in question, voiced the sentiment of the prominent business men composing the committee when he declared that "if we were a board of directors owning this money-making property as private individuals, I know what we would do. We would wire for these necessities tonight." Comment, to the thinking Atlantan, is superfluous.

Disclosures of a like significance have been recorded before the other subcommittees entrusted with the mission of probing accurately every phase of the bond-issue proposal. The corroborated testimony brought out has indeed been of such unexpected nature as to cause Dr. Longino, author of the original bond resolution, to surmise if double the first sum proposed could not be used on imperative improvements to great advantage.

The suggestion was, of course, only tentative, but it is significant as illustrating just how far we have gone down at the heel, municipally speaking, and the aggressive sentiment now growing in favor of retrieving past errors conservatively, but with a minimum of delay.

WILLIAMSON ON DIVERSIFICATION.

Mr. W. L. Williamson, of Commerce, Ga., strikingly indorses the reasoning of Mr. Hutchinson that diversification and cotton acreage restriction furnish the keynote to the agricultural problem of the south. Mr. Williamson speaks from the vantage ground of authority which he occupies as one of the most successful as well as one of the most scientific agriculturists of Georgia.

In his communication, published elsewhere, he is rather pessimistic regarding the progress of the all-important diversification propaganda, and he points out, forcefully, the causes operating to make the size of the cotton crop uncertain from one year's end to another. He demonstrates that it is only by abandoning the fetish of an all-cotton crop and devoting attention to other staple products that the farmers will secure, permanently, high-priced cotton and lift the revenue from Georgia's soil products from the "meager" figures of $100,000,000 to $500,000,000 a year.

"Just From Georgia"

The Drippin', Cool Melon.
Of the fruit crop there's tales for the growlers to tell,
But one thing's as certain as day:
The old Georgia melon we'll cool in the well.
An' we'll carve him, an' holler "Ho-ray!"

The old Georgia melon's Jest waitin' a spell,
An' it soon'll come drippin' An' cool from the well!

We love it best frosted—it's then it is fine
In the land where it best loves to dwell;
At noontime in July—it's then we will dine
On the melon that's cooled in the well!

Oh, the old Georgia melon's Jest waitin' a spell,
An' it soon'll come drippin' An' cool from the well!

What the Old Man Knew About It.
An old-time Georgia darkey—one of the plantation fiddlers, who couldn't play half as well cool sober as when he had several "sarchin' drams," and who under their influence would fall asleep, but keep on playing just the same—had to cross a swollen stream, one morning, after a "sarchin'" and it was rumored that he was drowned.

The rumor gained credence from the fact that no one had seen him in the settlement for two weeks.

But one morning he "showed up," when one of his "white folks" said to him:

"Why, Uncle Bill, I heard you had been drowned?"

"Yes, sah," he replied, "I hearn dat tale myself, but I knowed it wuz a damn lie time I heard it!"

The First Bluebird.

We pause to wonder and admire—
Though not a note he sings,
Perched on the slim electric wire
Preening his azure wings.

What does the wandering fellow here
In these unfriendly weather?
To make us dream that spring is near,
With frost on all his feathers?

When the Rain Comes Down.

Never a sigh, an' never a tear
When the rain comes down from the skies, my dear;
For rain and sunlight around us shed
Are weaving the rose to the white and red—

To the white and red that you love the best,
And life is beautiful, dear, and blest!

What is the meaning of misty eyes?
There are tears enough in the rainy skies!
Strength is needed for all the years:
Let the skies above you shed all the tears!

The rain makes the roses you love the best,

In the Stamp Business.

"Well," said the farmer to the prospective candidate, "I can rent you all the stamps you want in this settlement. Some of the best men in the country have spoke from 'em. Now, what sort of a man are you—a g-o-l-d maker? Do you want a congressional stamp, a governorship stamp, a legislator's stamp, or just a ordinary hooray an' hell-broke-loose-in-Georgia one?"

Fishing Commands.

Notwithstanding the rivers are pretty high, a Georgia poet sings:
"Johnny, git yer fishin' pole,
An' Billy, dig the bait.
(You're wearin' on the hinges
With yer swingin' on the gate.)
Thar'll be fish to fry fer supper,
Ef it is a leetle late."

Why He Weakened.

"Yes," explained the old family servant, "de ol' gentleman sh' died er disappointment. Dese new cool winters in de south is what kilt him. W'en he see his whiskey froze, an' he have ter swallow it in cracked ice, he have a deep sigh, an' give up de ghost!"

A Young Charleston Senator.

(From The Charleston News and Courier.)
Not many events in American history have occurred to halt the average man in the reading of his morning paper and entertain for a moment a deeper sense of sorrow than the death of young William J. Bryan, United States senator from Florida, appointed only a few months ago to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Mallory. He was only a boy—at least we recall him as a bright, handsome youth of frank, open face and a natural gentleman's bearing, who just six years ago was a law student in the office of his older brother in Jacksonville, fresh with his diploma from Washington Lee university with all the buoyancy of a "college man," who had come home flush with the honors of his college fairly won, still in demand for football games and drawing about him the companionship of young fellows still in college or about to enter. They said in Jacksonville then that there was good stuff in him; that he would make a man, and the prophets were right, though no one fanned perhaps that in a few years, years so brief that one thinks of them now in months, that he would take his place among the very foremost of his state.

Now he has gone, gone before the slip-pant, good natured things about his early distinction have been forgotten—gone before the opportunity arrived for him to lift his sweet, strong voice among the "older statesmen" with whom his state had accustomed him to sit and work as a peer.

WILLIAMSON STRONGLY ENDORSES HUTCHINSON ON DIVERSIFICATION

Editor Constitution: There can be no doubt about the correctness of Mr. Hutchinson's analysis of the situation

W. L. WILLIAMSON, Commerce, Ga.

In the south it is as plain as a b/c that a small crop will sell for more money than a large one. If 40 per cent of the usual acreage devoted to cotton should be planted to corn or other food crops we would not only get more for the cotton grown on the reduced acreage but would at the same time and with no increase in labor cost grow all the food supplies needed, both for man and beast, thus making a double profit.

All of this is well understood by all thinking men. It is not in the least new doctrine. To the knowledge of this writer it was advocated 35 years ago with as much earnestness as Mr. Hutchinson presents it now. We all, including a large majority of those who actually grow the cotton, fully understand the matter but are not likely to change our course. At least the much desired change in policy will not be accomplished in a day or year.

The universal disposition to grow cotton to the exclusion of diversified crops is due almost entirely to cheap labor and low-priced land. At least these helped to fix the cotton habit on us. Before the slaves were freed their owners were interested in making a profit off their labor. Cotton lent itself well to slave labor. After the war and until the past few years the price of labor has been so very low in the southern states that a small profit could be made on it growing cotton on our cheap lands.

And even now, although both land and labor have made some advance in price, there is still a small profit growing cotton when the price is 10 cents or above.

A permanent reduction in the acreage planted to cotton will never be brought about by cooperation of those engaged in growing cotton. There are too many of us to effect such organization as would be necessary to secure this cooperation. Cotton growers are numbered by the millions. Perhaps 90 per cent of these millions are irresponsible. They play for what is in sight. If the price is high at planting time we put in every possible acre, expecting to get a high price in the fall. If the price is now in the spring we put in all we can work, trusting to luck for better prices at selling time. We take all kinds of chances with the price of cotton and will continue to do so. Most of us are willing for others to reduce the cotton acreage but for us, never! It is our free American privilege. It makes no difference whether we make any clear money or not. Nor does it matter that other sections of our country rely on diversified crops make several times as much for a given amount of labor. We are willing for the south to remain poor while other sections are rich, if getting rich ourselves necessitates a change in our system.

What then is to be done about it? Shall the southern states go ahead making what is in sight? The northern states make $5. As bad as the case may appear this is likely to be the course events will take. We are married to our system and several things will have to happen before there is any change.

First of all the slave owners and those who inherited their conceptions of farming will have to be succeeded by a new regime. These people are interested in making money from the labor of others. They do not labor themselves. They can afford for a laborer to produce as small an income as may be desired, so long as such a laborer gets a portion of the income. Large estates and many laborers give a total income that is satisfactory to them, even though it results in a small income to the individual small farmer who does his own work.

There are too many people engaged in the business of growing cotton, so long as most of them persist in cotton as an exclusive crop. As long as it is thus grown and the price remains as it has been, our section will not be as prosperous as it ought to be. It is not likely that many can be induced to diversify crops and by this growing reduce the cotton acreage. This is what Mr. Hutchinson is pleading for and would be the sensible thing to do, but a generation has passed under my observation with but little improvement.

The negro was a curse to our fathers and a menace to our own prosperity. He is here in sufficient numbers to grow by his own labor enough cotton to supply the market. White labor will not leave cotton growing to the negro alone. When the two combine the result is too much cotton and poverty producing prices.

There is but one remedy and that is not likely to be applied very soon. It will have to come by degrees.

The remedy has been suggested by Mr. Hutchinson, viz., diversification. But as already stated, diversification will be a long time coming. The best we can do is to hammer away at the idea. Persistence in a good cause will finally triumph. Most of our hope along this line lies in the young men now coming on.

In the meantime we will have to do the best we can. It is true that our gross income from farm crops in Georgia would just as well be half a billion dollars as the present one-fifth of that amount. The difference in what our income might be and what it really is, is the price we pay for the privilege of growing cotton. Some day we will understand that this privilege is costing us too much. But at present we do not seem to desire a change.

BOTH SIDES OF THE RACE AS VIEWED BY STATE PRESS

"Where Gov. Smith Fell Down."

(Tom Watson in The Jeffersonian.)

The greatest mistake of the many that Governor Hoke Smith has made was his failure to reconvene the legislature when it failed so flagrantly to enact into law those measures to which the democratic party in Georgia was positively, publicly and overwhelmingly pledged.

After many years of bitterness and strife, the populist leaders decided to make the trial of the democratic prescription. "Get your reforms inside the democratic party."

In good faith we accepted the pledges made by Hoke Smith, and he was elected by the populist vote. His personal popularity did not carry him through. Indeed, we think that Hoke Smith is not personally a popular man. We think that nine-tenths of the men who voted for him did so on principle.

We supported him because of the legislation which he promised.

We believed then, and we believe now, that during his canvass, and for some time afterwards he was perfectly sincere in his purpose to carry out the contract upon which he had got the highest office in the gift of the people of Georgia.

But we think that it must be apparent to all impartial men that a change of some sort came over the governor soon after the popular session of the legislature was adjourned.

That body had refused to pass several of the most important measures to which the governor was pledged. This he could not help. But what he could have done, and should have done, was to order an extra session, and try it again.

In spite of all that we could do, the recreant legislators were left unprotected, and unprotected by a chance to see who were the bootlickers and lobby-suckers that were voting persistently against the reforms to which the democratic party was officially pledged.

Now, in the early primary set for June 4, those very renegades and lobby tools are coming forward for reelection. They will be elected again because they have not been exposed by Governor Smith vowed that they should be.

The people will elect these renegades, in ignorance of the manner in which they betrayed their trust at the regular session.

How can Hoke Smith be sincere now, in telling the people that his reforms will be carried through the next legislature? How can he possibly believe that the renegades will vote any better next time?

Are these political leopards going to change their spots, all of a sudden, just to humor Hoke Smith?

No. They will vote next time as they did the last time.

Now Governor Smith put them on the grill of an extra session, with the eyes of the people fixed upon each individual member, they would either have been coerced into voting right, or they would have been left out of the next legislature.

See how it worked in Illinois. Governor Deneen was elected on a pledge to have enacted a fair, honest primary election law. The old gang, with Joe Cannon at the head, was bitterly opposed to such a law. Their influence on the legislature prevailed and the bill was thrown out. Governor Deneen immediately called an extra session, in spite of old Joe Cannon's profane and obscene language of protest. Again the legislature refused to pass the bill. Once more Governor Deneen called the members back in extra session. For many days they wrangled over the primary law. Then they took a recess. By this time the people of Illinois were aroused. Members of the legislature began to feel the earth tremble under their feet. Dreading the wrath to come, they went back to the capitol and in November last the law for primary election was passed.

That is precisely the course which Mr. Jeffersonian urged Governor Smith to pursue. But he chose to listen to the Atlanta ring, and now he is making another campaign of promises. But how does he expect to keep those promises when he will have on his hands practically the same legislature which threw him down so hard after his first campaign of promises?

What was his reason for not calling an extra session?

And why did he not expose the legislators who betrayed the people, as he vowed he would do?

Didn't Write the Article.

Editor Constitution: You have made a terrible mistake in crediting The Waycross Herald with the attached article. It should have been credited to The Waycross Journal. I would not write such stuff as that for a thousand dollars. Please straighten it out for me. Emphatically, I am for Joe Brown for governor, and I believe he will go in on the crest of a larger wave than the one that landed Smith.

A. F. PERHAM, SR.

Waycross, Ga., March 25, 1908.

The article to which Editor Perham, of The Herald, refers, and which was inadvertently credited to his paper instead of The Waycross Journal, in which it appeared, is as follows:

The people of Georgia must not forget why they elected Hoke Smith as their governor. They must not lose sight of the fact that in view of 1908. Because of the cry of hard times, they do not want to lose sight of both sides in any way brought before them. Without fear or favor he has done what he considered right regardless of whether he hurt himself or so doing or not, and has shown that he does not regard any man as his master. The people of Georgia will probably show at the coming primary that they heartily support the reform movement. Governor Smith has lost the faith of the mass of the people as we with him.

Some South Georgia Views.

(From The Statesboro News.)

Governor Smith seems to have lost his hold on the voters. Even his most ardent supporters here are making no big extraordinary claims for him. Most of them frankly admit that Brown will have a walkover in Bulloch.

As far as we have been able to learn the same condition exists throughout south Georgia. A gentleman from Tadi made the statement yesterday that Brown would beat Smith among the men who supported Smith two years ago, to say nothing of the men who voted against Mr. Smith then who are practically all against him now.

A traveling man who was in town Saturday stated that the day Brown's announcement and platform appeared he was on a Seaboard Air Line passenger train, and when the train was polled out of thirty-seven voters thirty-five of them were for Brown, or any body against Hoke Smith. The man stated that a poll was made the same day in front of the postoffice at Lyons and out of sixteen men present fifteen expressed themselves as being for Brown.

The result in Emanuel county in the primary held there last Wednesday shows that the pendulum has swung to the other side up there. Two years ago Emanuel went for Smith by six hundred majority. The issue was made in the representatives' race last Wednesday. Editor Tyson was a staunch prohibitionist and supporter of Hoke Smith, and made it an issue, and the result was he was defeated more than double.

J. C. Jones, who does business at Metter, made the statement Sunday that that section was practically unanimous for Brown.

The writer spent Saturday night at Pulaski and the same condition prevailed there.

"Hoke Smith Will Win."

(From The Sandersville Progress.)

There will not be an evenly a campaign for governor this year as there was two years ago, because only two candidates will be in the race. The friends of Governor Smith feel confident that he will again be the nominee, and many of them look upon the candidacy of Joe Brown as a "LITTLE JOE" DIED IN ARMS OF KIND "CAPTAIN JINKS"

"Little Joe," the poor, meek little monkey, which was imposed upon at the Grant park zoo by the other monkeys, and which was placed in the guinea pig cage with "Captain Jinks," the monkey of a kindly heart, died Wednesday night, and his death was due to the ill-treatment he had received from the monkeys that had imposed upon him.

When the superintendent of the park went to the guinea pig cage yesterday morning he found "Little Joe" dead, and lying in the arms of "Captain Jinks."

During the night "Little Joe" became ill, and his good friend "Captain Jinks" had given him all the tender care that a kind-hearted monkey knew how to bestow. The patient was tenderly taken up by "Captain Jinks" and held until life had departed.

Was Holding the Dead Body.
 The park superintendent found "Captain Jinks" still holding the dead body of poor "Little Joe." When an attempt was made to take the body, "Captain Jinks" only held the lifeless form closer and became angry and showed fight. Even in death he did not wish "Little Joe" taken from him.

The death of poor "Little Joe" is one of the saddest events that ever occurred at the zoo. The little fellow was always very meek and forlorn. He was so timid that he never played, and he was so afraid of the other monkeys that he always kept in a far-off corner to himself. The other monkeys had a way of taking his food from him, and even went so far as to wait until he had cracked peanuts before snatching away the kernels. This sort of treatment made "Little Joe" grow thin and weak.

It Was All Too Late.
 "Captain Jinks," who has the reputation of being the kindest monkey ever lived at the zoo, was placed in the guinea pig cage, just to see how very kind he could be to other animals. He soon had every guinea pig in the cage his friend. Then the park superintendent thought it would be a wise thing to place poor "Little Joe" in the guinea pig cage away from his tormentors, and with kind "Captain Jinks." The good monkey became, at once a fast friend of "Little Joe."

It was all too late. Poor "Little Joe" had become too weak and ill from the treatment he had received from the monkeys who had tormented him so. When the dead body of "Little Joe" was taken away, "Captain Jinks" became very despondent, and even refused for a while to play with his little friends, the guinea pigs.

It is said that beside "Joe Carter," the lion that died last year, and a rose bush was planted over his grave.

IT'S GOING TO BE GREAT, THAT HIGH SCHOOL SHOW

That is going to be a great show which the boys of the high school will give a week from tonight in the hall of the Girls' High school building.

Just think of a "minstrel cross-fire" between two end men and an interlocutor and the burnt-cork artists all Atlanta boys full of rich new jokes!

Think of G. Wilkins in a monologue on "Adam and Eve."

Think of L. Wyatt singing "When Noah Gave Out Checks for the Rain!"

Think of a great baseball player making a speech on the national game which abounds with diamond jokes!

Think of seeing Herbert Gross in a comic with his mechanical jokes!

Think of Herbert Gross singing "It Always Comes With Summer!"

Then think, last but far from least, of Paul Carpenter, Alfred Revson and Angel Cuesta in a one-act farce called "Scotty, the Cowboy."

Think of "Bones" and "Trombones" giving a special act entitled "The Arkansas Traveler!"

And all of this rich medley to be set off with fine vocal and instrumental music!

Now, Can You Miss It?

Think of all of this and then just imagine, if you can, what a most delightful show you will miss if you do not buy a ticket and witness the Boys' High school performance next Friday evening.

Why, they say that those who have had the joy of hearing some of the rehearsals have almost had fits and convulsions.

WILL OPPOSE MR. BARTLETT

O. H. P. Bloodworth to Make Active Fight for Congress.

Hon. O. H. Bloodworth, of Forsyth, a long time solicitor general of his district, was in the city yesterday and stated at the capital that he had fully determined to enter the race for congress from the sixth district in opposition to Congressman Charles L. Bartlett.

Mr. Bloodworth said when he left home he had given instructions that his formal announcement be sent out to the papers in the district for publication the latter part of this week. He said he would announce his platform and determine his plan of campaign later, but that he proposed to make an exceedingly lively and active fight.

He said that one of the chief points he had made was that Bartlett could not have the congressmen practically every year since the war, there being only the brief period of two years during which the position was held by Hon. G. Cabanis, of Monroe.

BIG FACTORY FOR ATLANTA

Murray Company to Manufacture Cotton Gin Machinery.

The Murray Company, of Dallas, Texas, announces that it will soon erect in Atlanta a factory for the manufacture of its full line of machinery for the ginning trade east of the Mississippi river.

Preparations are now in progress for the erection of the Atlanta factory, which is to be a duplicate of the one in Dallas which is said to be the largest cotton gin machinery factory in the world.

The factory in Atlanta will employ a large number of skilled machinists and laborers, and will greatly add to the rates to every important point in the city already large number of important industries.

NEW TARIFFS ARE READY.
 Rate Clerks Complete Task of Making New Figures.

Sixty-odd rate clerks, who have been engaged for the past thirty days in computing the rates throughout the southeastern territory on the two and a half cents a mile basis, which will go into effect on April 1, have completed their task so far as this territory is concerned, and these sheets are now in the hands of the printer.

They will be issued to the various station agents throughout the territory in the next few days and will be in the hands of each by Wednesday morning.

Their task is not nearly complete, however, for they will remain in Atlanta another thirty days figuring out the rates to every important point in the United States, beyond the southeastern territory.

It is conservatively estimated that the new computations will cover the calculation of a half million rates and will completely revolutionize the traffic rates throughout the south.

ATLANTA MAY GET OLD POSTOFFICE

So Congressman Livingston Tells Committee.

HOW THE SITE WAS DEEDED

City Donated Site to Be Used Only for Certain Purposes - Colonel Livingston Made a Very Encouraging Statement to Council Committee.

Congressman Leonidas F. Livingston assured the council committee on public improvements yesterday afternoon that he believed Atlanta would get the present postoffice building for a city hall.

The council committee met for the purpose of hearing from Colonel Livingston, and when Chairman Key called the committee together, the congressman was on hand.

Alderman Hancock's ordinance, which called for an investigation of the postoffice property with a view to securing it for the city, was read. Chairman Key produced a copy of the deed by which the postoffice site was transferred to the United States government. The deed states that the site, which cost the city $60,000, was donated for a postoffice provided that it be used for that purpose. Under the wording, it was the opinion of the committee that when the United States abandoned the building to move into the new one, the property would, under the law, revert to the city.

Colonel Livingston's Statement.
 Colonel Livingston said that the matter would be referred by the house of representatives to the committee on appropriations, of which he was a member; that he believed he could get that committee to see the justice of the city's claim, and that there would be very little trouble in securing the property.

"It may take a little time and work," stated Colonel Livingston and his committee, "but we will see that the next congress assembly, I will do all that I can, and it is my opinion that Atlanta will get the property."

The committee thanked Colonel Livingston for his presence and for the encouragement he had given them. The committee will meet next week and further consider Alderman Hancock's resolution. If necessary, it will recommend that a special committee be appointed to see that the proper time to assist Colonel Livingston.

CARE IS TAKEN WITH PAVING.

Portion of Concrete on Broad Street Had to Be Re-laid.

A portion of the concrete foundation laid on North Broad street for the wood block paving was ordered torn up by the city engineer because it did not come up to the specifications.

Venable Bros., who have the contract for the paving of Broad street with wood blocks, sublet the concrete foundation to other parties. An inspection of a part of the foundation by the city engineer revealed the fact that there was not enough cement mixed with the sand and stones. The contractors readily agreed to repave that part of the street, and the work was done at once.

The city engineer says that the work will be done properly, and that Broad street will be well paved when the job is done.

Some time ago The Constitution called attention to streets which were being poorly paved in the past. From the way in which the city engineer is looking after Broad street, there is not likely to be any such complaint in the future.

A PERFECT HOTEL WILL ASK COURT TO REVOKE ORDER

The St. Regis, New York, Provide Every Known Comfort and Luxury

A LIBRARY FOR GUESTS

In the olden times when houses for public entertainment were known as inns or taverns very little attention was given by "inn hosts" to providing anything for his guests beyond such actual necessities as food and shelter, and even these were not always of the best.

In this age of great hotels, palatial in size and magnificence, which are not merely stopping places for travelers, but more or less permanent abodes, the manager provides all the comforts of home and much in the way of luxury and convenience unobtainable in the average private residence. Particularly is this true of Hotel St. Regis, New York's most complete living quarters, where the manager is content with giving its guests the best in the way of food, furnishings and artistic surroundings, the management also makes special provision for those who have literary tastes.

On the second floor of the St. Regis, where are located the grand ballroom and a series of reception and sitting rooms, is a large, attractive library, where more or less permanent abodes, the manager provides all the comforts of home and much in the way of luxury and convenience unobtainable in the average private residence. BIG PEAR CROP IS PROPHESED

Thousands of Barrels of the Fruit Will Be Raised in Lee County.

Smithville, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—The pear growers in this section are feeling very jubilant over the prospect of a "bumper" pear crop this season.

The blight has cut crops short for the past two or three years, and last season was almost an entire failure.

There are some signs of blight this spring, but coming later than usual it is not thought it will amount to much. In former years the crop was shipped from this station 6,000 barrels of pears each season, but has not been able to reach that number since the blight struck the trees.

This being one of the largest, if not the largest, pear sections in southern Georgia, a full crop of pears means something, and puts a lot of money in circulation in Lee county.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TO HAVE A VERY UNIQUE PROGRAM

The Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist Church Sunday School to Have Temperance Exercises.

The Sunday school of the Ponce de Leon Avenue Baptist church will render a very unique program at the temperance day exercises Sunday morning.

Besides the usual prayers, songs and lessons, there will be the following features on the program:

Special temperance songs by the chorists; a show and count of Bibles; temperance Scripture reading; messages from the temperance committee; the "Drunkard's Alphabet," beginning, "A is the young man's first glass of ale," cigarette arithmetic; a blackboard exercise in addition, subtraction, multiplication and division; the "evolution of the cigarette," expenditures for drink, tobacco, etc.; messages from B. C.'s, by eight boys; awarding of banner.

The exercises will close with the entire Sunday school singing "When the Roll Is Called Up Yonder."

WILCOX COURT ADJOURNS.
 Negro Was Sentenced to Be Hanged May 8.

Abbeville, Ga., March 26.—(Special.)—The adjournment of the superior court of this county has been postponed until the first week was presided over by Judge U. V. Whipple, and was devoted to civil business. Owing to the light docket it was adjourned after being in session three days. The court was presided over this week by Judge J. A. Littlejohn, of the southwestern circuit.

The only case of importance to be tried at this court was that of the state against Joe Watts, who has already been tried twice for his life for the murder of the two McDuffy brothers, at Rochelle, Ga. Owing to the absence of a good many of the witnesses this case was put off until June, at which time there will be a called session to try this case.

Simon Jefferson, colored, was convicted of murder, and sentenced to be hanged on May 8. He killed a negro that went by the name of Dood Lamb over very trivial matter, in which about 15 cents was involved. Colonel George was assisted by Colonel F. A. Hooper, of Americus, in handling the cases for the state.

Steamboat Rates to Be Adjusted.
 Montgomery, Ala., March 26.—(Special.)—The steamboat men on the Alabama and Tombigbee rivers have been notified to appear before the railroad commission on April 6 to take up the question of an adjustment of the rates to be charged for freight.

APPEAR BEFORE PRITCHARD

South Carolina, Through Attorneys, Will Ask That Order Appointing Receivers for Dispensary and Enjoining Commission Be Revoked

Sitting in Asheville, N. C., this morning Judge Pritchard, of the United States court, will hear a motion presented by Attorney General J. Frazier Lyon, of South Carolina, and by Thomas B. Felder, Jr., of Atlanta, member of Anderson, Felder, Rountree & Wilson, a well-known and recognized law firm, to revoke his order granting an injunction against the dispensary commission winding up the affairs of the dispensary and appointing receivers.

Attorney General Lyon, of South Carolina, came to Atlanta, reaching the city in the early morning hours, for a conference with the Atlanta attorneys who have been in this case almost since its inception.

The restraining order granted by Judge Pritchard some weeks ago and other features of the case were gone over carefully, closely and thoroughly by the attorney general of the Palmetto state and the Atlanta lawyers, that conference, quite lengthy, resulting in a decision to apply to Judge Pritchard for a revocation of his order.

And to present the case to Judge Pritchard, Attorney General Lyon and Mr. Felder, left the city at night.

Application for revocation of the order is based upon the fact that the supreme court of South Carolina recently decided that the act creating the dispensary commission constituted that commission agents of the state, and as such acted for the state. Therefore, any suit against the dispensary commission was a suit against the state of South Carolina—a suit of that nature being contrary to the eleventh amendment to the constitution of the United States. The application for revocation of the injunction order was based too upon the well established rule that federal courts recognize the decision of the highest court of the state constituting its own statutes as bind upon those of the federal courts.

Other phases were considered, among the most vital and interesting being a consideration of the advisability of a habeas corpus movement in event of an arrest of any of the state's representatives by federal authorities based upon contempt proceedings.

What the Carolina officials are anxious to obtain is a hearing as soon as possible in the supreme court of the United States.

NEW STATIONS STRICKEN.
 Point Raised by Mann Caused Storm of Discussion.

Washington, D. C., March 26.—When the agricultural appropriation bill was read for amendment in the house today Mr. Mann, of Arkansas, endeavored to have inserted as new provision his bill prohibiting the dealing in futures in agricultural products, but the chair sustained a point of order against it.

Mr. Scott, in charge of the bill, expressed his entire sympathy with the proposition, which, however, he insisted should be acted on independently.

Mr. Mann, of Illinois, raised a storm of discussion by directing attention to the fact that all of the eight new weather stations provided by the bill were to be placed in states having representations on the agricultural committee.

Mr. Scott, however, maintained that all of them were placed in the bill on the recommendation of the secretary of agriculture and the chief of the weather bureau.

On a point of order by Mr. Perkins, of New York, the several new stations were stricken from the bill. These stations were proposed to be located in Texas, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri and Indiana.

The bill was laid aside at 6 p. m., and the house adjourned.

WANTS TAX RATE RAISED.
 Jacob Haas Thinks This Proper Way to Meet Growth.

Following the suggestion made by him on Tuesday, that the city tax rate be increased from $1.25 to $1.50 a $1,000, and the bond issue of the future eliminated, Mr. Haas spoke to that question in detail at the chamber of commerce committee meeting yesterday afternoon.

"In thinking over the matter," said Mr. Haas, "I am more and more convinced that an increase in the tax rate is the proper solution of caring for the future growth of the city."

"I am in favor of having council go before the legislature in July and have our charter amended giving us the power to put the tax rate at the maximum rate of $2 a thousand."

"Make no minimum rate, but provide that this be the maximum rate."

"Then let our tax commissioners figure out the needs of the city for the ensuing year and assess the tax accordingly."

"We trust the governor, comptroller general and state treasurer for fixing the state tax rate, the county commissioners for fixing the county tax rate, so why can't we trust a city commission to fix the city tax rate. I think this matter should be taken up at once."

The remarks of Mr. Haas met with instantaneous indorsement from Forrest Adair, W. L. Peel, John E. Murphy and others present at the meeting, who heard him upon both occasions.

Steamboat Rates to Be Adjusted.
 Montgomery, Ala., March 26.—(Special.)—The steamboat men on the Alabama and Tombigbee rivers have been notified to appear before the railroad commission on April 6 to take up the question of an adjustment of the rates to be charged for freight.

It is interesting to know, too, that with the adoption of this schedule now pending there will be no more rate wars, the boat men not being allowed to make and set rates at will.

HORSES FOR FRENCH CAVALRY WERE SHIPPED FROM ATLANTA

The importance of Atlanta as a horse market was recently demonstrated when the French government commissioned Scott Hudson, the well-known liveryman of this city, to supply 500 horses to be used in the cavalry of the French army.

For a long time Atlanta has taken a position in the front rank as a mule market. In fact, if the local business increases at the rate it has for the past few years Atlanta will distance St. Louis, and become the leading mule market of the world. It would now seem that this city is also destined to occupy a most commanding position as a horse market.

Mr. Hudson is one of the best posted and most experienced horsemen in the country. For a number of years he drove on the grand circuit and won races from such experts as Ed Geers and Bud Doble. For the past two years he has been retired from the racing game on account of his eyes, and has been located in business in Atlanta.

"The horses I got for the French government were bought in Kentucky and Tennessee," said Mr. Hudson, "and they were of the very highest type of horse. While they were bought in other states they were shipped from this city. I am now in correspondence with the Italian government regarding the purchase of a number of horses, and I hope, before long, to close the deal."</

SOCIETY

To Mrs. Westmoreland.

Mrs. W. R. Hammond entertained informally at afternoon tea yesterday at the Driving Club, ten ladies being assembled to meet Mrs. Jesse Westmoreland, of Augusta.

The occasion was most enjoyable, and the tea table was attractive with its decoration of narcissus.

Mrs. Hammond wore a handsome toilet of black embroidered lace and flet lace, and Mrs. Westmoreland wore a stylish white cloth suit, with a black picture hat.

Bridge Party.

Mrs. John Davis Carter's bridge party yesterday was a delightful affair of three tables, Miss Annie Whitfield, of Macon, and Miss Marie Henry, of Greenville, S. C., being the guests of honor.

The decorative plan was mostly in lavender, wisteria being used in profusion. But there was a brightening suggestion, too, in jonquills; and the score cards were hand-painted in Easter lily design, out of which peered girls' heads.

The prizes were jabs of linen and lace.

Mrs. Carter was gowned in white voile and flet net embroidered. Miss Whitfield wore white silk lisse embroidered in lavender. Miss Henry wore blue silk and lace.

Miller-King.

A pretty wedding Wednesday night was that of Miss Pauline Miller and Mr. William G. King, which took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Miller, on Irwin street.

Rev. C. C. Jarrell, of Grace Methodist church, officiated, and the only attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Robert B. Johnston, the bride's brother and sister.

The ceremony was performed in the drawing room, and the bride entered with her father, the bridal party grouping themselves before a mass of palms and ferns.

Afterwards there was a large reception, and the entire house had a handsome decoration of palms, ferns and smilax, which were used elaborately.

In the dining room, where delicious refreshments were served, pink carnations in profusion formed the table centerpiece, and the mantel and sideboard were garlanded with smilax.

Miss Ruby Johnston served punch, and Miss Isabelle Hilley played the wedding music.

The bride was charming in a hand-made gown of white chiffon and princess lace. Her veil was adorned with valley lilies, and her shower bouquet was of bride roses and maidenhair fern.

Mrs. Johnston was gowned in white crepe de chine, trimmed with flet net and lace, and her bouquet was of pink roses.

Mrs. Miller, the bride's mother, wore a lingerie gown. Mrs. A. G. Miller, of Lebanon, Pa., assisting her in entering, was gowned in blue crepe de chine and lace.

After April 1 Mr. and Mrs. King will be at home with Mr. and Mrs. Miller, 29 Irwin street.

Rummage Sale.

The woman's guild of St. Luke's church will hold a rummage sale Friday and Saturday, March 27 and 28, at 86 Marietta street.

All wishing to contribute articles of any kind please send them to this address or phone 3834-J Main and they will be sent for.

Deacon Longface.

With a bevy of lovely school girls, under the leadership of Miss Ann Matison, who is an unusually fine elocutionist, he makes a decided hit in "A Day at the Union Station," the exceptionally entertaining play to be given at the Grand Wednesday night, April 1st, for the benefit of the children's ward of the Presbyterian hospital.

There are eighty-six of Atlanta's most talented artists in the cast and there is plenty of music, wit and laughter throughout the entire play.

Tickets can be procured at Brown & Allen's drug store and seats reserved.

at the box office on the 30th, 31st and 1st.
Box holders for the entertainment include:
Colonel and Mrs. R. J. Lowry, Dr. and Mrs. J. G. Earnest, Dr. and Mrs. J. M. Crawford, Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Dufosse, Dr. and Mrs. Edward Jones, Jr. Roy Harris, Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Stearns, Mr. and Mrs. George King, Dr. and Mrs. Marion Hull, Dr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis, Dr. and Mrs. Lecont.

Book Reception.

At the West End Baptist church, on Friday evening at 8, in the Sunday school room, the E. Y. P. U. will hold a book reception. An attractive program has been arranged, after which refreshments will be served. Every one attending this reception is expected to donate a book. The books thus contributed will be used to replenish the Sunday school library.

All the friends of the church and Sunday school are urged to attend.

Euchre Club.

Mrs. Will T. Collins entertained the Wednesday Afternoon Euchre Club at her home on Cone street. The house was prettily decorated with palms, ferns and violets. After the game a delicious salad course and ices were served. Mrs. Charles Goodman won first prize, a silk work-bag; Mrs. Tully Brooke took consolation, a hand embroidery piece.

Mrs. Collins' guests were: Mrs. R. H. Carpenter, Mrs. A. D. Little, Mrs. Rob Daniel, Mrs. A. F. Jones, Mrs. J. L. Hull, Mrs. A. M. Howell, Mrs. Hitchcock, Mrs. Tully Brooke, Mrs. Thomas Glenn, Mrs. Charles Goodman, Mrs. J. E. Reed, Mrs. W. J. Bone, Mrs. Rob Daniel will entertain the club at her home on Peoples street, April 8.

Rummage Sale.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Episcopal Memorial Methodist Episcopal church will, beginning tomorrow morning, conduct a rummage sale at 184 Peters street. Any article, it matters not what it may be, members of the Aid Society can possibly convert into coin, will be gladly accepted by the organization. While the sale opens Saturday morning, the work will be carried over from a late hour Saturday night until Monday morning, when the sale will be resumed, to suspend only when the full inventory or complete stock of goods that may be supplied by donations, has been disposed of.

Smith-Phillip.

Mr. J. Willard Smith and Miss Ethel Philip were quietly married Thursday evening in the presence of a few close friends, by the Rev. Father Jackson, at the rectory of St. Andrew's church, in West End.

After the ceremony a buffet supper was served at the residence of the bride's parents, where the couple received congratulations of their intimate acquaintances.

The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Philip, while the groom is connected with the commissary office of the department of the Gulf. The couple will be at home to their friends at 309 Courtland street.

North Side Club.

At the meeting of the North Side Club of Decatur yesterday with Mrs. T. C. Mayson, the first prize, a vase, was won by Mrs. Lewis Ramspeck; the consolation prize, a game fan, was drawn by Mrs. D. H. Chambers; and the guest prize, a lace jabot, was won by Mrs. J. E. Scofield. A dainty luncheon followed the game.

Japanese Party.

Miss Laura Bell Turman entertained thirty of her little friends at a birthday party yesterday, the guests assembling at 4 o'clock. A Buster Brown game was played, the prize, a box of candy, being won by James Boykin. The house was beautifully decorated in Japanese parasols and lanterns, and Japanese fans were souvenirs of the occasion. Delicious refreshments were served.

To Mrs. Roberts.

The Misses Stewart will entertain a few tables of bridge this afternoon in compliment to their sister, Mrs. Walter Farley Roberts, of Utica, N. Y.

To Miss Briscoe.

Mrs. Van Astor Batchelor's bridge party this afternoon will be a happily informal affair in compliment to Miss Katherine Briscoe, of Knoxville. She has invited the following young ladies to meet her: Misses Frances Newman, Frances Connally, Florence Warner, Rolina Clark, Katherine Briscoe, Lula and Grace Calloway, Jennie Mobley, Martha Whitman, M. A. Phelan, Emily Lowndes, Mrs. John Hill.

Bruce-McMullan.

On Tuesday evening, March 24, at 8 p. m., Mr. William Wallace Bruce, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Miss Lella Edna McMullan, of Atlanta, were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, 371 Central avenue. The simple yet very impressive ring service was used by the officiating clergyman, Rev. J. A. Gordon.

Dr. Paul P. McCain, of Due West, S. C., stood with the groom, while Miss Lillian McMullan, the bride's younger sister, acted as bridesmaid, assisting in carrying a handsome bouquet of carnations.

More than one hundred invited guests witnessed the marriage and with hearty congratulations bade the happy young couple Godspeed as they left for their home in Jacksonville, Fla.

Many handsome and valuable gifts in silver, cut-glass and china attested something of the esteem in which the bride is held by her numerous friends.

Cake Contest and Auction.

A number of very handsome cakes have been sent in for the cake contest that will occur at noon Friday.

The cakes have been donated to the Sheltering Arms after the awarding of prizes, and will be sold at auction at that hour.

At 3 p. m. there will be a free concert given by the Munger orchestra of six pieces. In addition to the orchestra numbers, there will be a violin solo by Mrs. Irwin Mueller.

INSTANT RELIEF FROM CATARRH

Send for a Trial Sample of This Great Remedy, and Convince Yourself of Its Merit.

When we say that Eclipse Catarrh Cure gives instant relief from that disagreeable, offensive disease from which so many suffer, we are ready to prove this assertion to your entire satisfaction. No matter how long you have been afflicted, no matter how badly stopped up your head may be, the sample which we will send you will give immediate relief, clear up the clogged air passages, throw off the offensive accumulations, and soothe and heal the delicate, irritated membrane.

Eclipse Catarrh Cure is a vegetable preparation of wonderful curative power. It promptly reaches the remotest air passages, where the disease is located, and effects a permanent cure in even the worst cases.

Mrs. E. A. Bryant, Rome, Ga., Writes:

"I want to tell you how much good your medicine has done for me. Before I used your remedy I suffered so much with Catarrhal deafness I could hardly hear at all, but now I can hear as well as I could before I had Catarrh. I am now sixty-eight years old, and have never had anything to do me as much good as your medicine. I advise everyone who has catarrh to get and use the 'Total Eclipse Catarrh Cure'."

Send for Week's Treatment. We are anxious for every sufferer to try this great remedy and will send for twenty-five cent stamps a liberal trial treatment and a pipe to all who will send us their name and address. Write at once and we will send you a hundred letters from grateful patients whom we have cured and will send you also our booklet containing these testimonial letters and full information about the disease. Do not delay, but write today. Address: Eclipse Medicine and Manufacturing Company, Atlanta, Ga.

IN ROWBOAT TO ARCTIC.

Adventurous Journey to Be Undertaken by Steffansson.

New York, March 26.—His "healthy body and cheerful mind" are the principal equipment to be used by Vilhjalmur Stefansson, who is to start in April in a row boat for the Arctic circle to learn the ways of Eskimo tribes no white man has visited.

Money he will not require, but he will carry a few files, needles, and butcher knives as gifts in return for the hospitality which he expects to receive. One rifle, a few fishhooks and nets and a suit of fur clothing will be the sinews of the expedition. Mr. Stefansson was formerly an instructor at Harvard university, and his coming expedition is under the auspices of the American Museum of Natural History.

BISHOP FALLOWS ON AGE.
People Ought to Be in Their Prime at 80, He Says.
Chicago, March 26.—Three score and ten years of earthly license is an old-fashioned allotment of a man's life according to Bishop Samuel Fallows. People ought to be ashamed that they don't live to be 100 years in this age, he holds.
At 80 a man should be in the prime of life, whereas now 40 or 45 is declared to be the climax.

EXPERTS' REPORTS

NEW YORK, March 18, 1908.
Daniel Guggenheim, Esq., President Guggenheim Exploration Company, 71 Broadway, New York City.

My Dear Sir:
I beg to hand you herewith report by Mr. Oscar N. Perry on the properties of the Yukon Gold Company. Mr. Perry's report is based on the results of his examination, verified by a corps of assistants in the Klondike District during the past three years.

I have studied Mr. Perry's figures with care and have gone over the report submitted by Mr. A. N. C. Treadgold, who has been in the Klondike District during the last two seasons, and is very familiar with the District. In view of the foregoing estimates by Mr. Perry and Mr. Treadgold, I believe that the gravel owned and controlled by the Yukon Gold Company, in Yukon territory, should yield upward of $50,000,000 gross value, and when the properties are thoroughly equipped, I believe that Mr. Perry's estimate of $50,000,000 net profit, with possibilities of even more, will be realized. I am, very truly yours, (Signed) A. CHESTER BEATTY.

PROPERTIES AND EQUIPMENT.

The company's holdings in the Klondike District are located on Bonanza, Eldorado, Bear and Upper Level creeks, which have a production record of approximately $100,000,000. The scheme involves absolute control of the above named creeks, the holdings being so distributed that no other large scale operation is possible.

To secure this position, the company has purchased sufficient claim, and Upper Level or Bear Deposits, to control the mining situation, and is now introducing a water system, and electric power plant with suitable equipment, to work its holdings upon a large scale and with the greatest possible economy.

The previous operations in this district have been conducted almost entirely by hand methods, and on a small scale. Hence, the ratio of cost to gross extraction has been exceedingly high. Former operations have been continually hampered and the results materially increased by the extreme scarcity of water.

The equipment has been designed with two objects in view: First, by the introduction of water and power to reduce the ratio of cost to gross extraction, on the claims now owned or to be acquired by the company, many of which have been partly worked, and could be still worked profitably even by the old and expensive methods. The savings in operating costs will greatly increase the quantity of gravel which can be worked.

Second, by the use of a continuous water supply and the best possible equipment, to make available large areas of gravel, which cannot be profitably exploited by the old methods. In view of the enormous volume of gravel available, the possibilities of this phase of the scheme are very large.

The engineers' estimate of the gravel available in the Yukon Gravel band on three seasons' work shows a gross of over $50,000,000 in the ground examined. In the properties already owned outright or controlled, the gravel available is estimated at $35,000,000 with a further profit, due to probabilities (reduction in cost, extension of workings, etc.) estimated at $4,000,000, making a total net profit of $39,000,000.

The presence of rich gravel areas on other developed creeks in Yukon District within the present field of operations, together with the expected increase in quantity of gravel which the methods improve, make the possibilities of the business very large.

To summarize: The Yukon properties now being developed are estimated to contain $50,000,000 net profit. The California and British Columbia properties add $2,000,000 net to this, making a total of $52,000,000, which is a conservative estimate. The possibilities of further development and extension, making it safe to assume that the ultimate return will greatly exceed this figure.
(Signed) O. R. PERRY.
New York, March 6, 1908.

(C) NEW YORK, March 8, 1908.

To the Directors:
I promised last summer to make you an estimate of the Klondike gravel to be worked by the equipment which you have been installing for new work, and which will be completed during the summer season of this year.

I shall confine myself to the main pay channel of Hunker Creek, of Bonanza Hill, below Bear Creek, and of the Klondike Valley between Hunker Creek on the east and the mouth of the Klondike River.

This main pay channel is continuous in the Valley just mentioned, and the equipment which you have now nearly completed will work the whole area, by the use of the method, where that method is easy and suitable, and by dredge, where dredging is more suitable.

I have been in constant contact with the four valleys above mentioned during the summer season of each year from 1898 until now, and I have during the last three seasons had the benefit of the results of the continuous examination work of your own engineers, aided by my own independent observation.

In my estimate of net yield I have selected from the areas served by our equipment only the higher grade deposits; those we shall treat for obvious reasons before the still larger volume of low grade gravel. The lower grade gravel, however, will form a definite and very large increment, increasing naturally to our operations after we have worked out the higher grade ground in the first twelve or fifteen years of our operations.

In view of the fact that we shall find the selected areas of high grade gravel as follows:

Bonanza Hill (Upper)..... 50,000,000
Bonanza Hill (Lower)..... 45,000,000
Bonanza Creek Bottom (Lower)..... 25,000,000
Klondike Valley, below Bear Creek..... 3,000,000
Pear Creek Bottom..... 3,000,000
Hunker Creek Bottom..... 20,000,000
Hunker Hills..... 20,000,000

Total value..... 187,000,000
Gross, $58,540,000..... 187,000,000
Net..... 128,500,000
Gross and Net..... 250,000,000

Total value of gravel available..... $40,450,000
The above gravel areas are located on the following very large low grade areas which will undoubtedly be profitably treated by our equipment at a later stage in our Klondike operations, as follows:

Hunker Creek Bottom with its tributaries: Cubic Yards.
Last Chance Creek and Gold Bottom Creeks..... 3,400
Hunker Hills and Last Chance Hills..... 80,000
Lower Bonanza Hill..... 80,000
Klondike Valley, below Bear Creek..... 3,000,000
Pear Creek Bottom..... 3,000,000
Hunker Creek Bottom..... 20,000,000
Hunker Hills..... 20,000,000

The low grade areas listed above are entirely covered by the equipment now nearly completed, with the completion of our main ditch during this season, and the installation of elevators, power plant, transmission lines and storage dam (all of which last five aids to systematic working are now ready for use), we shall be in position to treat the Klondike gravel in due course at a cost not far in excess of that experienced in the known alluvial fields. Yours faithfully, (Signed) A. N. C. TREADGOLD.

Carpenter, Baggot & Co.
New York, March 26.—The foreign market, while showing a better improvement, failed to meet our advance of yesterday on the nears. This did not keep the demand from opening the May option above a parity with Liverpool. The advance, however, was used to sell the other deliveries on, and in consequence the market progressed lower prices. As the buying side recently, were supported to the market and shorts began to cover, carrying prices above the high marks reached on yesterday. Advice from the south were more optimistic, all reporting a better demand from New York. March 26.—The cotton market was higher during the early session, but lost the gain, and closed barely steady at a net decline of 1 point to an advance of 1 point. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales.

The market opened steady at an advance of 267 points and after some little irregularity increased the gain, on steady Liverpool cables, firmer advices from southern spot markets, covering by Wall Street shorts and a scattering demand from local professionals, March sold up to 9.05, or 15 points net higher, but there were only a few scattering transactions with covering by heated shorts the only support, and that month later eased off readily with other positions. May sold 9 points over last night's final, but new crop positions were relatively easy, pointing to good weather in the south, and at the best were only 5 or 6 points net higher. There was not much snap to the buying on the advance and during the afternoon the market turned easier, under realising by early buyers in the absence of bull support.

There were quite a number of private advices from various southern points, reporting a better demand for spot cotton and firmer interior holders, and the southern spot markets officially reported were unchanged to quarter cent net higher. The fact that receipts at the ports continue light is regarded by many as pointing to light and of the month clearances, and exports today were again very small.

Spot closed quiet; middling uplands

Tomorrow, Saturday, in the stock market of New York, there will be offered for sale through representative Boston, New York and Philadelphia stock exchange houses, 700,000 shares of the

YUKON GOLD COMPANY

at not less than $5 or more than $7.50 per share. The entire 700,000 shares is treasury stock of the capital 3,500,000 shares par $5 each, and is sold for the benefit of the company.

YUKON GOLD COMPANY

is owned by the Guggenheim Exploration Company.

The exploration company is one of the group of corporations known throughout the world as the "Guggenheim Metal, Smelting and Mining Group."

Among the group are the following companies:

Yukon Gold Company.
Guggenheim Exploration Company.
American Smelting and Refining Company.
American Smelters Securities Company.
Federal Mining and Smelting Company.
United Zinc Company.
National Lead Company.

Owing to the huge capital of these combined companies—hundreds of millions of dollars—their enormous assets and great gross and net earnings, and the business and mining ability combined in the administration and operation of the allied corporations, this group is recognized throughout the world as the head of the mining industry. Owing to the extraordinary success of all companies which have ever become a part of this group, the enormous aggregate of annual dividends, and the fact that the stocks of the different companies have sold at tremendous premium over their flotation price (American Smelters, capital $100,000,000, par $100, sold in 1907 at $174 per share; Guggenheim Exploration, capital $20,000,000, par $100, at $326 per share), the public have always eagerly sought ownership in any stock bearing the label of this successful and powerful group.

The surest and choicest investment of the entire group has been considered to be their "Yukon Gold," because:

First. The product of gold mining is always at least 100 cents on the dollar in the money of any Nation, with the market always unlimited.

Second. Because "Yukon Gold" is a "dredging" and hydraulic instead of a "deep mining" proposition, which means that it cannot be affected unfavorably by flood, famine, earthquakes or "bad times."

Third. Because the quantities of gold contained in "Yukon" property are definitely known.

Fourth. Because the cost of mining on this property could always be accurately estimated.

Fifth. Because this group had been liberal and farsighted in their expenditures for "The Plant" to an extent heretofore unequalled in any gold mining proposition in the world—that is, this group will have invested, when their present plans have been completed (they are nearly complete now), $12,000,000 and three years of labor, not only fearlessly invested, but so wisely that if "the Guggenheims" had accomplished nothing else in "Business" this one effort would have marked them as great public benefactors.

Sixth. Because it was positively known that the enterprise was an immensely profitable investment.

For the above reasons leading bankers have eagerly sought to secure the whole or a large portion of the Yukon stock to offer to the public. For the same reasons the group have always refused to part with any of it.

The only reason that makes it possible to secure any of this stock now is, first, because it is now a completed success, and, second, because the group have been convinced that just at this time, when the people are filled with distrust of all things corporation-wise, it will be of inestimable value to the whole investment and corporation structure to spread through the land into the hands of thousands of small and large investors a fraction of the stock of their enterprise at less than one-half of its actual worth.

Two brief illustrations will show to all the horse-senseness of this move; the amount of money lost to the group by selling to the public 700,000 of the 3,500,000 shares owned by the Exploration Company will be many times more than made up by the increase in the value of the stocks of their corporations in the group.

The story of the Yukon's property and stock is told better and more fully than I can tell in the reports and schedules which are presented herewith.

"A" is the says of one of the best known and most reliable and responsible mining and business experts in the world—A. Chester

Boston, March 27, 1908

Beatty. Mr. Beatty plainly and concisely tells of the property and the two men who know most about it, and they, in equally plain and brief language, have told what they know.

"B" is the report of one of the best experts on this form of property anywhere—O. B. Berry.

"C" is the report of the man who has lived continuously with the property since its discovery.—S. A. N. C. Treadgold.

Mr. Treadgold is an Englishman of responsibility, learning, mining knowledge, and high standing. In Great Britain, America, Canada and Alaska he ranks second to no man on the subject of which he treats.

As "A," "B" and "C" duplicate themselves in places, and as every word in my extensive advertising costs heavily, I have cut out the duplicate parts. The unabridged reports will be sent to any one who desires to have them.

"D" is an outline of "The Group," enterprises and men, and is printed for the purpose of allowing all to judge if such an aggregation of business men and corporations would allow exaggerated or unreliable statements to go forth about property and stock which they and they alone own and control.

Before leaving FAIR FINANCE, the first section of my work of publicity, in the interest of the people and of capital, I would say, the methods of offering this stock to the public are new.

Not a share of Yukon stock will be sold to anyone until the public throughout the United States, Canada, England, Germany and France, have had twenty-four hours to read, digest, and investigate the facts and figures herewith presented. Then—at the opening of the New York Stock market, that is, twenty-four hours after all have read this statement, the entire 700,000 shares will be placed in the hands of representative stock exchange houses with orders to sell to any and all buyers who bid through recognized stock exchange or curb brokers at not less than $5 nor more than $7.50 per share, and to continue to sell until the entire 700,000 shares have been disposed of, after which time the price will be the one made by the late comers and those who have bought and who are satisfied to take their profits.

In presenting this absolutely safe and profitable investment to the public everywhere, and particularly to the 425,000 investors and speculators with whom for so many years I have done more or less business, I have this earnest say to present: I have personally and thoroughly tested the worth of this property, and in my opinion it is the best investment I have ever known.

I have, to the best of my ability, looked over and into the "Guggenheim Group" of enterprises and the men upon whose ability, honesty, and work they must depend, for success, and I am convinced they are destined to be winners—square deal winners—and destined to become great favorites with the people, as from time to time the people mingle their savings with the securities based upon the enterprises of this group.

While I do not yet own a share of Yukon stock, I have nevertheless a tremendous interest in the success of this project of disposing of this stock—if it is the success it should be I increase my power to procure bargains from the great Captains of Finance for the people, and when the 700,000 shares I have been instrumental in securing for the people at one-half or one-third their worth are in great public demand at two to four times what the people have paid for them, I will have added largely to my public following.

A parting word to small investors: If after you have secured some Yukon stock at from $5 to $7.50 per share, you are tempted to sell at later prices of $10 to $15, you should weigh carefully before doing so the possibilities of reinvesting your original savings, and what they have garnered for you, to as good advantage as in Yukon even at $10 to $15 per share, bearing in mind in all your calculations that this investment is so sure, that the men of all men in the world who know most about such investments, and particularly this investment, have selected Yukon Gold for their choicest permanent investment, and they retain four-fifths of it, which they will not sell even at a large advance over what the public on Saturday can buy at it.

A word to Wall street speculators: In determining how big a block of "Yukon" you should take, consider what will happen to "Yukon" with only 700,000 $5 shares outstanding for trading purposes (equal to but 35,000 shares of Union Pacific), when my friends, the public, take it all and insist upon securing more. You and I will agree the entire lot will hardly supply the demand of any one of a number of us who in the past have never seriously balked at taking on 50,000 to 60,000 shares of any $100 stock which looked half as good, as investigation will absolutely prove Yukon is.

COTTONS CLOSE DAILY STEADY

Market Was Higher During Early Session.

New York, March 26.—The cotton market was higher during the early session, but lost the gain, and closed barely steady at a net decline of 1 point to an advance of 1 point. Sales were estimated at 200,000 bales.

The market opened steady at an advance of 267 points and after some little irregularity increased the gain, on steady Liverpool cables, firmer advices from southern spot markets, covering by Wall Street shorts and a scattering demand from local professionals, March sold up to 9.05, or 15 points net higher, but there were only a few scattering transactions with covering by heated shorts the only support, and that month later eased off readily with other positions. May sold 9 points over last night's final, but new crop positions were relatively easy, pointing to good weather in the south, and at the best were only 5 or 6 points net higher. There was not much snap to the buying on the advance and during the afternoon the market turned easier, under realising by early buyers in the absence of bull support.

There were quite a number of private advices from various southern points, reporting a better demand for spot cotton and firmer interior holders, and the southern spot markets officially reported were unchanged to quarter cent net higher. The fact that receipts at the ports continue light is regarded by many as pointing to light and of the month clearances, and exports today were again very small.

Receipts at the ports today 18,223 bales, against 11,079 last week, and 21,003 last year. For the week 85,000 bales, against 92,997 last week, and 147,046 last year.

Receipts, 3,275; stock, 189,234. Futures opened quiet, unchanged to 3 points above the close yesterday after Liverpool had cabled that the market was steady at a fair advance with a satisfactory undertone and spot sales showing an increase. Good reports from spot markets at other points lent some strength to futures and there was more of a disposition to trade on the long side of the market. During the late session the market eased off several points as a result of favorable reports that the new crop is now a factor. At the close, which was steady, the active months were one point below to 4 above the close yesterday.

Liverpool Cotton.

Carpenter, Baggot & Co.
New York, March 26.—The foreign market, while showing a better improvement, failed to meet our advance of yesterday on the nears. This did not keep the demand from opening the May option above a parity with Liverpool. The advance, however, was used to sell the other deliveries on, and in consequence the market progressed lower prices. As the buying side recently, were supported to the market and shorts began to cover, carrying prices above the high marks reached on yesterday. Advice from the south were more optimistic, all reporting a better demand from New mon and second preferred resulted in substantial declines in those issues. Union Pacific fluctuated feverishly, and broke from 128 1/2 to 125 1/4 when it became known that the new financial plan contemplates an issue of perhaps $20,000,000. The street was plainly disappointed at the news, also, at the failure of developments regarding the so-called Union Pacific "segregation plan." Southern Pacific, which developed unusual activity and strength in the early session, lost some of its gain and the list, as a whole, registered declines. There were partial recoveries, however, but in the final hour, the market showed diminished force, with renewed attacks by the short interest. The closing was steady with prices rallying. From abroad, the only noteworthy feature was the weekly report of the Bank of England, whose reserves declined to 46,000,000, against 51,200,000 last week. This exhibit, however, was vastly better than that reported by the same institution a year ago. Monetary conditions were unchanged, there being little demand. Gross earnings of forty railroads for the second week of March show a decrease of 12.44 per cent, compared with the corresponding week of last year. For the third week of this month ten days show a falling off of 12.73 per cent.

The bond market was irregular, with government issues unchanged on call. Total sales, par value, were $4,170,000.

MR. ADAIR'S PROPHECY

(Atlanta Journal, Sep. 16, 1906.)

Adair Talks Of Atlanta Dirt.

Comments on Recent Sales and Trend of Real Estate

Developments. Property Advances.

ATLANTA'S prosperity has become a much hackneyed expression and that "Atlanta Spirit" has been greatly abused! But in spite of all this it is too true to be ignored that Atlanta has for the past two or three years prospered beyond the expectations of even the most sanguine and stands today as the representative city of the south.

There are several good reasons that can be ascribed to this, and the steady increase in the value of real estate is perhaps the greatest.

Central business property and good residence property have increased rapidly in value during the last few years, and it is not an easy matter today to find a vacant lot which comes up to the usual requirements on any of the principal streets, and these lots when found, are not to be bought for a song.

TREND TO SUBURBS.

The tendency of the best class of home-seekers is undoubtedly away from the noise and confusion of the city, and out in the more sparsely populated districts, where they can get plenty of fresh air, and room in which to breathe it.

In discussing the real estate situation yesterday, Mr. Forrest Adair said:

"In my opinion the opening of Ansley park was a master stroke on the part of Mr. Edwin P. Ansley, and puts him in the class with those men who have done most towards the upbuilding of Atlanta. The undertaking was enormous and there were obstacles, seemingly unsurmountable, in the way of its success. The property was situated outside the city limits, and in the ordinary course of events it would have taken years to improve it in such a way as to make it attractive.

"Mr. Ansley did not wait for the county to pave the streets and avenues which have been laid out through the park, nor for the city to lay a system of water and sewer; but he took the bull by the horns, as it were, and did these things himself at a great expense, and his work will stand as a monument to the man's wonderful foresight and judgment and to his indomitable energy and will.

A WILDERNESS TRANSFORMED.
"That portion of Atlanta is conceded by all to be the most desirable residence section, as it is on the beautiful Piedmont ridge. Most of us remember the vast wilderness presented by Peachtree street, north of Fourteenth, when

THEATERS

Mrs. Carter in "Dabarry."

Like a western wind away the rippling grain, so Mrs. Leslie-Carter, in "Dabarry," dealt with her audience, which packed the Grand last night from pit to dome.

At first, like a gentle zephyr, she toyed with the audience, gently making the heads nod gracefully in approval at her quips and pranks, as a milliner's assistant who mimicked her customers, flirted with the gallants, and made life merry for the shop.

As this wind increased into a stirring breeze so moved the second act, and it was easy to see that her dominant personality was soon to make itself felt with a rush that would sweep all before it.

Mrs. Carter, during the third and parts of the fourth act, proved herself to be the all-compelling emotional actress the critics of the east have long declared her to be.

By this time she had worked the audience up to that pitch of enthusiasm which made them lean forward in their seats to hear her slightest whispers. They hung upon her very words, forgetting that it was a play being presented, and feeling as though it were a page from French history of the fourteenth century being brought to life again in this present day.

In the latter part of the fourth act, the second scene, where the wind broke forth in its fury, and she fairly consumed with the intensity of her work.

It was in the latter part of the only man whom this "courageous" had ever really loved with the depth of a true woman's nature, burst forth when the object of her love was about to meet death, and she believed herself to be the case, knew herself to be the only one who could save him.

She decided to do this at the cost of everything, and so declared in a manner which brought forth her hurricane of emotion into full play, and she swept all before her.

It was in this act, where she made her self-sacrifice, that her dramatic height was reached.

It was here that the audience, spell-bound before, and in mute applause for a moment after the curtain went down, and was only brought to the realization that it was a play when the brilliant lights blazed. Then it was that a storm of applause broke forth, and it was such an encore that brought tears of pleasure to the eyes of Mrs. Carter when she made her sixth curtain bow.

After this great scene in the fourth act the tension of the play eased like a wind that is spent, and this natural simile was brought to a close at the finale by the semblance of a spring rain, for over half of the audience was in tears when the last curtain was dropped.

Mrs. Carter is an actress who rises to the heights, soars in cloudland, and lights as easily and gracefully as a dove. She is the one woman who today in American stage who dominates so forcibly as to cause an audience to completely forget that there is a difference between the actress and the part she interprets, and there is seen only the vitalized character herself.

Like a resplendent gem in a hand, which was superbly mounted.

Fifty-odd speaking parts added to its minute charm, and made it flawless in detail.

It will go down in the theatrical calendar of 1907-1908 as one of the stars, if not the star, productions of the season.

It was Mrs. Carter's second visit to Atlanta in "Dabarry," and it was a keen disappointment that "Zaza" was not the bill.

The one detractor of the evening was the fact that over an hour was consumed in intermissions, but the gorgeous stage settings and elegant and elaborate costumes presented as the cause.

Those who missed this production missed a delightful theatrical treat, for Mrs. Carter and company were here only for the one performance.

ERNEST DALLAS.

Hattie Williams.
Hattie Williams, who will be the attraction at the Grand tonight and Saturday, brings not only the big original New York production of "The Little Cherub," in which she has been appearing at the Criterion Theatre for two seasons, but also many features that have been but recently added and heartily welcomed by the amusement public.

Among these are her "burlesque imitation" of Maud Adams, Ethel Barrymore, Rose Stahl, William Gillette, Mrs. Nazimova and other stars. These were begun in a spirit of fun—Miss Williams declaring that she would show how bad imitation could be—but to her surprise and gratification they were declared by public and critics to be splendid bits of mimicry and they have been continued ever since.

At the Bijou.

Two splendid audiences witnessed the performance of "A Royal Cher" yesterday at the Bijou. This attraction is making good beyond the stage, and the management and every one who has witnessed a performance this week is loud in praise of the show. W. J. McCarthy is one of the most original fun-makers that has graced the Bijou stage in many moons and those who are assisting him in the fun-making are all capable performers and the work of the chorus is away above anything that has been seen in musical comedy recently.

At the Orpheum.

If you haven't heard Beale Wynn sing "The Girl Who Threw Him Town" at the Orpheum this week, you've missed a rare treat. She has the fetchingest wit with her and she makes the gallery and part of the floor join with her in whistling the chorus. She has a little recitation, too, that is a corker and worth hearing. The bill this week, which includes the Four Larks, the greatest casting act ever seen here, the songs and dance of Annie and Edie Conley and the magic of Professor Powell is about the best all-round offering of the season. That has been said in past weeks, and may be said truthfully in the future, for the vaudeville at the Orpheum is improving every week as leading acts complete their New York engagements.

THOMAS F. MCGOURIN, OF PENNSYLVANIA, reached Atlanta yesterday morning from the east and registering at the Kimball, passed the day in the city, leaving at midnight last for his home in the penninsular state. Mr. McGourin is United States marshal for the northern district of Florida and is one of the leading officers of his state. Some ten days or two weeks ago Marshal McGourin went to Washington on official business and was detained at the national capital until Wednesday, when he began his return journey, making the trip by easy stages.

J. C. MEREDITH IN ATLANTA ON HIS WAY TO THE EAST

Distinguished Civil Engineer, from Florida Spent the Day in Atlanta.

J. C. Meredith, one of the most distinguished civil engineers in the country, accompanied by members of his family, passed through Atlanta yesterday enroute east, having reached the city from Florida, where he has been engaged in some of the most difficult railroad work of the century.

Engineer Meredith has been connected with the Flagler railway lines for some time, and his creation of a "railroad over the sea" is now considered one of the most astonishing. It might be said one of the most sensational pieces of railroad imagination, creation and perfection of the age. The road across the water, as it is known, is now in operation for more than 80 miles, and there are yet to be constructed something less than 50 miles. Work on that link is now being pushed with all energy and vigor imaginable. From a point not far below Miami the tracks run across the water to the keys. The tracks are something like 30 feet above the water, and are supported by concrete viaducts, and the work in its every detail has attracted the attention and admiration of all engineers and railroad builders.

Mr. Meredith was a guest at the Piedmont during his stay in the city, and will stop off again in Atlanta on his return to his peninsular home after he shall have completed his vacation, the first he has had in a number of years.

LEXINGTON WAS SELECTED.

Will Entertain the National Negro Baptist Convention.

Nashville, Tenn., March 26.—By a vote of 9 to 13 New Orleans loses the national negro Baptist convention and Lexington, Ky., will entertain this body. The action was announced by the executive board of the national Baptist convention in a special meeting here today.

This is the largest negro body of religious workers in the world, representing a membership of over 2,300,000. The 1907 convention was held in Washington, D. C. They adjourned to meet in New York, but New York asked to be relieved, hence the special meeting here today.

TRUSSES

Buying a truss is easy enough, but deserves a little thought. Rupture is too serious to leave to guesswork. You should get the truss that fits exactly. In our truss department we have not only the scope of stock, styles and sizes, but an expert who knows which is best and how to fit a truss exactly.

Belts and Bandages

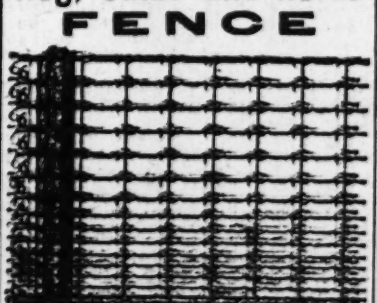

Stout persons can be made more comfortable by using a belt to support the abdomen.

It will lessen the girth, and prevent strain of the abdominal muscles. We have every style in the finest imported German goods.
